In the Military

Adam K. Beatty

Marine Corps Pfc. Adam K. Beatty, son of Sabrina G. and Bill G. Beatty of 354 Redmon Road, Paris, Kentucky, recently completed basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.

Beatty successfully completed 12 weeks of training designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Beatty and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a.m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning of the program, Beatty spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, markmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Beatty and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values-honor, courage and commitment, and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Beatty and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour team effort, problem solving evolution which culminated with an emotional ceremony in which the recruits were presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and were addressed as "Marines" for the first time since boot camp began.

Beatty is a 2000 graduate of Millersburg Military Academy of Millersburg, Kentucky.

Joseph E. Carman

Joseph E. Carman has graduated from the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) Advanced Camp at Fort Lewis, Tacoma, Washington.

At camp, the cadet completed a five-week course consisting of intensive military leadership training and evaluation exercises in communications, management, and survival training.

After successfully completing advanced camp, and graduation from college, the cadet will be commissioned as a second lieutenant to serve in the U.S. Army, National Guard, or Reserve.

He is the son of Edward E. Carman of Rural Route 2, Cynthiana, Kentucky.

Carman is a 1998 graduate of Harrison County High School, Cynthiana and is currently attending Morehead State University.

Danny R. Harris, Jr.

Army Reserve Pvt. Danny R. Harris, Jr., has graduated from basic military training at Fort Leonard Wood, Waynesville, Missouri.

During the training, the trainee received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, physical fitness, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is the son of Ronda L. Harris of 4270 U.S. Highway 60 E., Morehead, Kentucky.

Nathan L. May

Nathan L. May has graduated from the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) Advanced Camp at Fort Lewis, Tacoma, Washington.

At camp, the cadet completed a five-week course consisting of intensive military leadership training and evaluation exercises in communications, management, and survival training.

After successfully completing advanced camp, and graduating from college, the cadet will be commissioned as a second lieutenant to serve in the U.S. Army, National Guard, or Reserve.

He is the son of Tom L. and Kathy S. May of Triple L Road, Morehead, Kentucky.

Luncheon to be held at Bo. Co. Park

Moorefield Homemakers

The Moorefield Homemakers met at the Extension Office with Margie Wilson as hostess. Eight members answered roll call by naming three things we were thankful for.

Nancy Judge, president presided. The devotional was given by Elizabeth Ellington on "Two Ethical Questions." The scripture was from Eph. 4:3.

Wanda Shrout read the minutes which were approved. Wanda Mathes gave the treasurers report. For Christmas projects, we will donate to the Fire Department's "Toys for Tots" and the Eastern State Hospital.

A candle holder was painted as our craft this night. While it dried, we went to the Talk of the Town for dessert. Following refreshments, the lesson on "Folk Music" was given by Lucille Clark. A musical tape of stringed instruments such as the fiddle, banjo, mandolin, guitar and dulcimer was played.

We finished decorating our craft to take home. The December meeting will be with Nancy Judge. Lois Hamm will have our Christmas program.

Circuit judges' attend education program

Robert W. McGinnis, from Harrison, Nicholas, Pendleton, and Robertson Counties, recently attended a Circuit Judges' Education Program hosted by the Administrative Office of the Courts, Division of Education Services. Judges attended this continuing education program to learn about new laws, procedures, and cases affecting the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Topics and issues addressed during this four-day education program included: adoptions; Kentucky Rules of Evidence 404 (b) and 609; DUI; family courts; revisions to Kentucky's Penal Code; criminal sentencing; the dynamics of rape; stalking, legal research; case law updates, the legislative process; legislative updates; Sovereign Immunity; and judicial ethics.

Topics and issues presented were determined by a thorough needs assessment of circuit judges and suggestions submitted by the public and interested parties. The Circuit Judges Association's Education Committee evaluated all suggestions to determine the most timely items to include on the program agenda.

Continuing education is a major priority with the Kentucky Court of Justice. All Kentucky judges are required by the Kentucky Supreme Court to obtain 25 hours of continuing judicial education every two years. The Education Committee of the Kentucky Circuit Judges Association welcomes all relevant suggestions for future program content.

Ag News

Temperatures warmed up for a return to summer to last week averaging 65 degrees, 11 degrees above normal, with no appreciable rain in the state. Rainfall for the week ending October 29 totaled 0.08 inches for the state. Days suitable for fieldwork averaged 5.4 out of a possible six. Kentucky farmers continued seeding winter wheat. Morning fog and increased night humidity were beneficial to curing of burley tobacco. Weather conditions were ideal for finishing the corn and soybean harvest across the state. The dry weather conditions in areas of the state continue to pressure wheat and barley seedings as well as pasture growth. Other farming activities last week included working cattle and preparing pastures for winter. Topsoil moisture as of Friday, October 27 was rated 16 percent very short, 37 percent short, 46 percent adequate, and 1 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was rated 17 percent very short, 37 percent short, 45 percent adequate, and 1 percent surplus.

Tobacco: Foggy mornings through the week helped curing and stripping of tobacco,but the persistent warm, dry weather has raised concerns about houseburn. Comments from producers have varied greatly about both weight and color. As of Sunday, October 29, 24 percent of the burley crop was stripped, compared to 23 percent last year and 22 percent on average. Condition of stripped tobacco was 4 percent poor, 26 percent fair, 52 percent good, and 18 percent excellent. Firing of dark-fired tobacco, types 22 and 23, was going good.

Corn: Ninety percent of the corn crop was harvested as of Sunday, October 22. This compares to 97 percent the previous year, and 86 percent for the five-year average. Reports of excellent yields continued; however, some unharvested corn was beginning to fall down.

Soybeans: As of October 29, 77 percent of the state's soybean crop was harvested, behind last year's 83 percent and ahead of the five-year average of 66 percent. yields on early planted soybeans have been encouraging with second crop beans having been affected somewhat by the early season frost. the warm weather through the week provided good drying conditions.

Corn: Harvest was nearly complete as of October 29, as 94 percent of the corn for grain had been harvested. This was behind last year at 99 percent and ahead of the five-year average of 91 percent.

Other Crops: Winter wheat seeding was 75 percent complete. This was behind the 82 percent for the last year and 76 percent for the five-year average.Rain is needed to ensure a good germination rate of newly seeded wheat, and to invigorate emerged seedings.
