

FIREWORKS FROM FRONT
Majority of injuries involve burns which are one of the most painful types of injuries.

Most fireworks injuries are caused by Class C fireworks — legal in many states. Fireworks banned by federal law in all states include cherry bombs, silver salutes, M-80s and M-100s.

The best advice is to leave fireworks to the professionals, said Rangers. The safest way to enjoy fireworks is at a community sanctioned, licensed event.

BLUE FROM FRONT

Mercury as his family toured the site. "We looked at the war monument at the museum and had dinner here — it was a very pleasant stop."

Blue Licks also offers camping and cottages for overnight guests.

There's a 15-acre nature preserve for the environmentalists to wander and enjoy. The Buffalo Trace (15-mile) and The River Trail (1-mile) hiking trails and the 18-hole miniature golf course offers challenging outdoor activities. Several special events, including the Battle of Blue Licks Reenactment in August, and planned activities dot the park's calendar year round.

But perhaps the most-used facility at Blue Licks, especially in the dog days of summer, is the swimming pool. Since there's no community pool in Carlisle, most sun lovers and spring-breakers make the short drive up US-60 and dive in.

"It's been really busy ever since it got this summer," Price said. "But it's always busy when it gets hot."

Whoever trail you hike, the room you stay in or for the hours you soak up the sun and fun at the pool, it's a guarantee you'll enjoy your stay at Blue Licks State Park. Come back soon!

For information on the park and all of its events or activities, call 600-259-5507. For reservations call 1-800-443-7008.

IRING FROM FRONT

Obtained search warrants for the suspects' residences. Nine people were arrested: Shann Goodby, 23, Jackson Griffith, 22, Greg Morris, 20, Adam Porter, 20, Edwin Zinn, 20, and Sarah Zinn, 21, all of Morehead, police said.

Three male juveniles also were arrested, police said.

Aber described the bust as the largest recovery he has been a part of in his four years with MSU police.

"Some of the items are in fair condition while others are beyond repair," Aber said.

According to police, the burglaries began around May 23 on the MSU campus. Stolen from MSU was $41,000 in computers, computer hard drive, compact discs, a violin and other items from 16 separate burglaries.

MSU is insured for the stolen property, police said.

Morehead Police also recovered the bust as the largest recovery he has been a part of in his four years with MSU police.

On June 26, Kentucky State Police recovered even more stolen property from another Rowan County location, police said.
