and the resulting game went to the extra innings. The defending champion Bat Jackets out of the Regional Tournament, Eastill County got an unbelievable 2-out, 2-strike, no balls home run from an eighth-grade hitter in the seventh inning to tie things up at 1-1 last Wednesday night in Harrison County on the Engineers' way to a 1-1 victory that clinched Nicholas County's season.

The loss also brought to a close Anderson's 21-year job as the top man for Nicholas County baseball. The coach announced his retirement after last year's Final Four journey and this season's 28-8 mark.

"In a nutshell, it all came down to those three things," Anderson told The Courier. "I didn't want to lose the second day and we knew facing Kirby in the first game would be tough. And we sure didn't want to get into extra innings where we might see up one of our pitchers."

"But you've got to get some breaks and we didn't get any," the Nicholas County coach said. "And we didn't hit the ball, either."

solo homer in the fourth to give the defending champs the 1-0 edge as the Bat Jackets tried to defend their crown and return to the State Tournament. But after starter Josh Fryman came out after six (hoping to use him the next round), Eastill's No. 8 hitter kept Shane Smith's 0-2 delivery out of the park, tying the game.

Fryman re-entered and the Engineers added two more in the 10th and held on for the 1-1 win.

"That was 'bout the worst the top man for Nicholas County baseball. The coach announced his retirement after last year's Final Four journey and this season's 28-8 mark."

Tincher said he thinks the funding at this point is for equipment.

"We still have our fingers crossed that they will come here, but we're still in the initial startup phases," Tincher said.

Estimated cost of the project is $2,320,000.
