Those costly errors." Those four jacket turnovers in the second half were answered with three touchdowns by Paris. And that was just too costly.

"They got good field position out of our turnovers and it gave 'em an edge," Letcher said. "And Paris is too good a team. If they get that spark they use it against you."

Paris put in a pair of touchdowns in the third and two more in the fourth to take both the lead and the win.

Herrington led Nicholas County's offense with 132 yards rushing on 23 carries. Heid picked up 63 yards, including two touchdowns, on 20 trips with the ball.

But the jackets won't have much time to worry about their big, bad behavior because to Carlisle this Friday night for the second straight year as Nicholas County's State playoff foe. Last season, Letcher & Company defeated Dayton in the first round. That win was the first-ever State playoff victory for the Blue. In the second round, Bellevue got the better of the hosting jackets, 33-9.

"We played them last year and we're looking forward to playing them again," Reid said. "It'll be like playing the mirror image of because they run the ball and then the run the ball some more."

This year, Letcher expects

As well as a tough test. Two of Bellevue's losses came against Beechwood and Danville, both top A schools. A third defeat came against undefeated Lawrence County.

"Bellevue's a really good football team," the Nicholas skipper said. "They've got four losses, but they've lost to four really good ball clubs. They don't do anything fancy but they don't do anything to hurt themselves, either. They just come at you - we've got to be ready for a game like this."

Kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Kentucky gas prices drop

Gas prices in Kentucky have experienced a steep drop in the last month, which should make fall auto vacations more affordable and boost holiday spending budgets, AAA said today.

The average price for unleaded regular gas is now $1.22, down 34 cents from mid-September. Kentucky currently has the 7th cheapest gas prices in the U.S. and the state's average prices are the lowest they've been since March 1999.

The lower gasoline prices are mainly due to reduced demand for gasoline since the Sept. 11th terrorist attacks and to crude oil prices stabilizing near $22 per barrel.

Individual Kentucky cities are showing dramatic price drops. In Lexington, the average is $1.17, down 36 cents in a month; Ashland, $1.25, down 34 cents; Covington, $1.29, down 43 cents; Louisville, $1.22, down 38 cents; and Owensboro, $1.11, down 42 cents.

"This is quite a price break for Kentucky drivers who were paying prices in the $1.60 range a month ago," said Dan Dickson, Public Relations Manager for AAA Blue Cross/Kentucky. "AAA thinks the lower prices will encourage people to take more trips for car fall. After all, travel is one of life's greatest pleasures," added Dickson.

Nationally, the average price for unleaded regular is $1.35. National average prices for gasoline for AAA's October survey for the last five years were: 2000, $1.52; 1999, $1.29; 1998, $1.07; 1997, $1.26; and 1996, $1.28.

As the nation's largest motor and leisure travel club, AAA provides its more than 45 million members with travel, insurance and automotive-related services.

Rep. Carolyn Belcher, D-Preston, listens to testimony during the 28th meeting of the General Assembly's Subcommittee on Veterans Affairs. During the meeting, lawmakers passed a resolution supporting actions taken by the U.S. government in response to the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. Belcher represents Kentucky's 72nd House district in Nicholas, Bath, Bourbon and Fayette counties.

Saltwell News
By Mrs. Jeff Mattox

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Brady dined at Golden Corral in Winchester on Saturday night honoring Phyllis birthday.

Phyllis Brady enjoyed a gospel concert on Sunday night by Rev. Doug Day at Union Baptist church at Poundersville, in Harrison County. The church grew up in and many of family still go there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Doyle and others spent from Wednesday through Sunday camping at General Butler State Park near Carrollton.

Phyllis Brady visited Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Caswell and Mr. and Mrs. Spears Collins on Monday.

A large group attended the hay ride and winner raffle at the Saltwell Church on Saturday evening. Several youth and adults spent the day helping around the church for a "work-bee". They

New coalition to address long term care issues

Long-term care for the elderly and persons with disabilities is gaining new momentum thanks to an emerging coalition - Kentuckians for Quality of Life.

The group is planning nine public meeting forums to discuss the state's long-term care situation, hear Kentucky families' experiences and to share them with state legislators.

The next forum is Friday, Nov. 2, from 1-3 p.m. at Fayette County Extension Office located at Red Mile Place off Red Mile Road in Lexington.

Subsequent public forums are planned for Bowling Green, Covington, Louisville, Morehead, Prestonsburg and Somerset.

Area legislators have been invited to each of the forums.

The coalition's objective is ensuring that Kentucky citizens have the resources to live where they choose. Aligood-Murphy says the coalition's work is necessary to develop alternatives to straining home care for Kentucky elderly and persons with disabilities.

She advocates increased funding for personal care attendant and wrap-around services, and intensive case management programs.

True hopes the advocacy group will spark changes in the state's Medicaid program to enable "person centered and directed" funding. Such changes would help state residents secure social services needed to continue living in their homes and communities.
