went for bat pitches or let good ones go by.

the rightfielder's head for a stand-up two-bagger.

Herrington, Saunders and Cobb all found holes in the Fleming County defense for hits and three more runs.

The game was the first in 10 days for Nicholas County, having been off for Spring Break last week.

But after a ground-out to Seth Saunders at short and a pair of K's to the top of the second, the Bat Jackets' bats romped in their at-bat in the second.

Lealie Earlywine cracked a lead-off single and then with one out, Michael Ockerman bounced the 1-3 pitch over the centerfield fence for a ground-rule double.

Earlywine held at third - but not for long. Michael Eads ripped an RBI single for the 1-0 advantage.

"We're doing pretty good and everything seems to be falling into place," McFarland said. "We could do better, not necessarily today, but in other games. We did pretty well in everything today - pitching, hitting, defense. It was all there."

Nicholas County was at fourth on County last night (Wednesday) and travels to Powell County on Monday night.

The Bat Jackets are at the top of the middle (2-0). McFarland sent a shot over fourth when Matt Crain went long on his first look from the mound.

In the sixth, Eads, doubleheader on Saturday.

things at 2-2. With Treadway on third and Hannah Gray standing at first, Hamilton rips a shot down third for a fielder's choice, but not before Treadway slides in under the throw for the go ahead, 3-2.

With two out, Johnson removed her necklace then rifled the 1-2 pitch to right field bringing Gray in for the two-run lead.

"Quit trying to hit the high school with it," Coach Storie yelled to a batter, maybe dropping her shoulder a bit. "Just make contact with the ball! That got harder and harder to do as the Fleming County pitcher couldn't find the plate."

The Nicholas County girls hosted Montgomery County last night (Wednesday) and bring the Lewis County Lady Lions to town tonight.
