PEOPLE & PETS Teach Children To Beware Of Bites

(NAPS)—It's important for people to protect children from dog bites—even if a dog seems to have a history of biting. Each year, 4.7 million Americans are bitten by dogs, and 60 percent of the victims are children. Children are frequently bitten on the face, which can result in severe scarring or infection or scarring. If a child is severely bitten by a dog, parents should seek the services of a plastic surgeon to call a plastic surgeon certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery.

It's important to teach children to be wary of dogs. Always supervise children when they play with dogs. Keep the family dog healthy— an unadopted puppy can make a dog aggressive. Also remember that a dog is likely to bite if it's cornered, being afraid, shaking her back and forth. This story is not uncommon. Says Edward Luce, MD, president of the American Academy of Surgeons (AAPS), "Plastic surgeons report the results of thousands of dog attacks each year. Parents should be aware of their children's behavior. The ASPCA offers these tips to help prevent dog attacks. Parents should never leave infants or children alone with a dog.

Diabetics major to receive Patton scholarship at MSU

Morehead State University's chapter of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi has selected Cheryl Martin as the 2002 recipient of the Margaret Patton Scholarship. The presentation will be made during the annual spring breakfast, which is slated for Monday, April 8, in the Adm. Bldg. at the University Center. Reservations are necessary for the program that begins at 6:30 p.m. in the Crager Room.

Martin, a dietician major, will graduate in May with a bachelor's degree in University Studies after only three years at MSU. She has maintained a 4.0 grade point average on campus and plans to enter dental school at the University of Kentucky in the fall. She says her interest in dietetics stemmed from an interest in eating disorders and the experience of having a family member with a diabetes. However, Martin says her career choice of dietitian was not her first choice. She has received numerous academic awards, including the Presidential Scholarship, Academic Honors Scholarship, PKP Sophomore Scholarship and the Humanities General Scholarship from the College of Science and Technology. The daughter of Jerry and
