100th Day celebration

PRESSURE FROM 4

a message board, e-cards and history on Valentine's Day cards.

• One fountain of knowledge is contained at The Seduction Palace (www.seductionpalace.com). Their "Love Library" offers helpful hints for Valentine's Day, downloadable romantic music, poems, screen savers and help with love letters.

• A basic course in romance can be found at Romance 101 (www.rom101.com). It features articles, humor, poetry, advice, e-bugs, personals and inspirational stories.

But don't fall into an obvious trap. You might be tempted to send a virtual flowers e-card. It's a nice idea - you send your favorite sweetie a picture of the most expensive or beautiful bouquet that accompany offers with a nice note and it's free.

On the flip side, that special someone can't smell the flowers, can't show them off to their co-workers and you look really cheap.

And if it's one thing you don't want to look like on V-Day, it's cheap.

The best site I found out there was The Perfect Present www.perfectpresent.com.

You enter a little bar-bones information about your male and they give you pages of possible gifts!

Out of the hundreds of options, I can't decide between the $25 Luvheart Sculpture ("Place a tea-light candle behind the Luvheart Sculpture, and directing it toward the wall, this 3-D Luvheart projects a shadow of a heart that actually beats with a flicker of the flame") or the $1,200 Kathrine Baumann Heart Purse ("This heart-shaped bag is dipped in 24K gold, then adorned with swarovski crystals. The limited edition bag comes with a 24K dipped chain, or may be used as a clutch").

Maybe I'll just email her a picture of the purse... and duck.

That's just my opinion. Actual user opinion may vary.
