now," the Bat Jacket coach said.

Though he admits to not being worried, yet, Sims said the next few weeks will be critical to his club's success in the District Tournament, May 29-31.

A clash with Clark County was on the schedule for last night (Wednesday) and the jackets are entered in this weekend's Bourbon County Round Robin Tournament.

The boys from Carlisle host Powell County on Monday the 13th and they travel to Frankenburg on Tuesday, May 14.

in-a-row. You've got to be prepared each time and each play.

"Sometimes we have a let-down that leads to a bad inning, really we have one of those a game," Hamilton said. "And we've got to cut down on those bad innings."

Confidence will be the key when the girls face Bourbon County in the opening round of the 37th District Tournament later this month. The teams split two games in the regular series, a more important than the "W" is the fact the girls from Carlisle were competitive even in the one they lost.

"It'll be real competitive," Coach Stone said. "Both times we came back on 'em and got the win at our place."

The girls should be confident in their matchup with Sayre, Nicholas County thumped the Lady Knights, 19-1, in their first clash this season.

"When we beat (Bourbon), we got confidence," junior infielder Beth Grimes said. "But we need to hit better in the tournament. We haven't been hitting very well. Even when our hitting's not there, we've got to keep our fielding up."

Chandler said that over 400,000 people have put their names on the "No Call" list. Two-thirds of them signed up in the tournament. We haven't signed up again unless their home phone numbers have changed.

Chandler advised that the fastest and easiest way to sign up for the "No-Call" list is to access the Attorney General's web site at www.kyca10.com
