Starting early!

For many of the NCHS students summer is coming to an end. However, for 25 members of the NCHS Marching Band it came to an end on July 16 when they hit the hot pavement once again to start the march toward state.

This year's show is entitled, "For whom the Bell Tolls" that takes the audience through twists and turns on an adventure of life.

The show is filled with a repertoire of "Carol of the Bells" which represents Bells of Joy, Danse Macabre, Bells of Death, Meditation de Thais, Bells of Salvation, and Cannon D. Bells of Love.

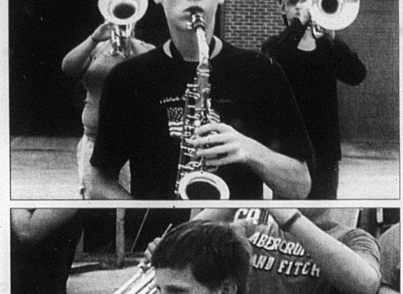

Debbie Hale band director of NCHS said she is amazed by the determination and confidence of this year's unit.

After coming in fourth place last season at the state marching band finals not only is she determined, but so are her students.

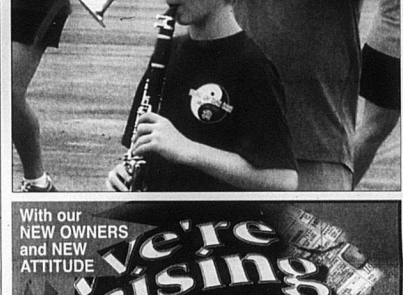

"I can see a new found confidence in their eyes which makes them so much more determined to bring home more than just fourth place," stated Debbie Hale.

For the past few years Hale has stayed to the same routine as far as competitions go but this year she has changed them up a little bit.

On Sept 8th and the band will be traveling to Mason County for their exhibition show. Sept 15th the band members will be trying their feet at Madison Central rather than their normal Campbell County conference of this year's
