FALL SPORTS PREVIEW

2007 Nicholas County High School Football team Jackets buoyed by off season

Off-season workouts could pay big dividends for the Nicholas County High School football program. Veteran NCHS head football coach Robert Hopkins witnessed his team hit the weight room hard in the off-season. "We had a good off season in the weight room," said Hopkins. "Spring practice didn't go as well, but we were still able to get some things done."

"Right now, we're starting to get the commitment from players," Hopkins commented. "The administration has already made the commitment." Nicholas County will look to improve last season's 2-8. But it won't be easy. Especially playing in Class A, District 8 along with Lexington Christian, Raebland, Paris and Fairview.

Jonathan Mattos and Michael Reid are both four-year starters for the Blue Jackets and Reid will be called upon to play both ways during the upcoming season. Offensively, Mattos and Reid will share time at the fullback position. Running back Shane Sweet is expected to help lead the Blue Jacket running game. "Our offensive linemen are younger kids, but they're good athletes." According to Hopkins, only four NCHS football players will play starting roles on both offense and defense. The Bluejacket's defensive line is one of the district's strongest units. "Up front along the defensive line, we'll be stronger than anyone we face," said Hopkins. "This group has worked hard to get better."
