GENERAL NEWS
Carlisle Police officers receive new guns

Members of the Carlisle Police Department were recently outfitted with new weapons, ammunition and bullet proof vests.

Layne and Chief of Police William Denton said the new weapons are a step forward for the department as officers previously used weapons of various calibers and models.

Officers provide injured Hawk help

Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Officer Herbert Booth and raptor enthusiast Sgt. Darrell Layne of the Carlisle Police Department joined forces once again last week to help an injured goshawk.

The two frequently work together to help injured raptors and fowl of Nicholas, Bourbon County farmers who caught the hawk in a barn contacted Booth.

Booth said he was very pleased with the grant. "I think TASERs (electronic stun guns) are a great tool for smaller departments or for isolated officers."
