Protecting Yourself from Identity and Other Consumer Frauds

Identity theft is a serious issue and one that shouldn't be ignored. It can destroy your credit record and make it difficult to obtain loans, employment or housing. Victims can spend years trying to recover their good name.

In 2006, identity theft topped the list of consumer complaints received by the Federal Trade Commission for the seventh year.

While nothing has fewer identity theft complaints than all but six states, it is still a problem -- especially for those that fall victim to the fraud. In Kentucky in 2006, 1,766 identity theft complaints were reported to the FTC.

Credit card fraud is the most common form of identity theft, followed by phone or utilities fraud, bank fraud and employment fraud. Identity-fraud related to telephone or utilities is most likely a relative using a family member's name to start new service because they can no longer get service in their own name due to unpaid bills.

Criminal identity theft is a special problem. Because the criminal commits crimes under someone else's name, identity theft victims may be arrested for crimes they didn't do.

To protect yourself from identity fraud and other types of consumer fraud, contact (Your County) Extension office and ask for the following two publications, "Let the Consumer Beware! A Guide to Fraud and Rip-Offs" and "Making Your Ride on the Internet Safer."

If your personal information gets out where the wrong people can see it or, someone steals your identity, you can do some things to protect yourself. First, contact one of the three biggest credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, or TransUnion, to put a fraud alert on your credit record. You may also do this by telling a consolidated credit report provider such as AnnualCreditReport.com. Contact them online at http://www.annualcreditreport.com, or call 877-322-8228. When you tell one of the three big credit bureaus, they will tell the other two.

You might find it hard to get through and tell them, however don't give up. The big credit bureaus take your requests over the phone, but their phone systems can be hard for you to use. You might find it easier to place your request on the Web site of one of these companies or on AnnualCreditReport.com.

But you might still need to mail them some information so they can access your file. Do this, even if it is difficult, if you do nothing, you will be far worse off.

If your personal information gets out where the wrong people can see it, but you find no fraud on your credit report, you may place an alert on your record for 90 days. You can renew this alert every 90 days. You get a free credit report when you place this alert.

If someone does steal your identity, file a police report with your local police or with the police where the fraud took place. Close all accounts that might have been seen by the wrong person or that were opened against your wishes. If you have a police report of actual fraud, you may place an alert for seven years.

A new Kentucky law that takes effect July 12 will allow you to place a security freeze on your record. This will keep people from getting your credit report without your approval.

It will cost $10, but will be free if you give them a copy of your police report. Don't place such a freeze on your record unless you need to do it, however; it will make it hard for you if you apply for credit yourself. But, if you need to buy something big like a car or home, you can lift the freeze temporarily for $10.

Dispute any bills that result from identity theft. Tell the Kentucky Attorney General's Office about any companies that try to get you to pay those bills even after you write to them about what happened.

For more information on identity and other consumer frauds, contact Nicholas Extension office at 289-23612.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

It's getting near to our growing and mowing season. Please help us by removing all artificial flowers, except those in approved containers by April 1, 2007. All unapproved flowers left after that time will be removed by Cemetery personnel. We should also bring to your attention that all glass and ceramic objects and all wind chimes should be removed at this time.

Love, Your Family!

Card of Thanks

We, the family of Pearl Elizabeth Farris, would like to express our thanks for the many acts of kindness that were bestowed upon our loved one during her illness and death. To all those who assisted with her care at Johnson Mathers Nursing Home and the hospital staff who cared for her during her final days, we can never thank you enough.

You went far beyond the call of duty. We will never forget how you did everything possible to keep our mother comfortable. We appreciated all that was done for the family members as well. Coffee, snacks served at the table made it possible for us to remain at her bedside until the end.

We thank Rev. Ernie Carmicle, Rev. Julian Hammonds and the Rev. Jim Denny for conducting a beautiful service.

We thank Mary Katherine Knapke, Mike Phillips and Gerald Watkins for singing her favorite songs.

We thank Brent and Roy Gaunce for their efficient service, the pallbearers, those who sent flowers, food and cards and those who contributed to the United Methodist Roof Fund on her behalf.

We truly appreciate the wonderful dinner that was prepared for us by the United Methodist Women. We especially thank Jock Conley, for being a faithful friend to her and for taking time to shower her with special attention. You will all be held in grateful memory.

May God Bless You!
