GENERAL NEWS
State funds delivered for sidewalk project

Kentucky Transportation Cabinet Secretary Bill Nighbert was in Carlisle last week delivering funds to help Nicholas County Elementary and Middle School students arrive and depart the school safely.

It has been estimated that approximately 200 students travel by foot or bike to school.

Others commented on the project. "I'm very thankful, Clark Mayor Ronnie Clark said during the check-proceeding ceremony, which was held in the school's library.

Clark said the project will begin within 30 days and the project to bring in earthen to spring 2008.

Nighbert asked the students to always buckle their seat belts when traveling in a motor vehicle and be, Public Safety Commissioner Tim Hazlett, District 9 Transportation Cabinet Information Officer Allan Blair and Ginger Willis, the commissioners of government relations, each stressed the importance of road safety and seat belt use.

Each also stressed the importance of the Safe Routes project.

"This project is just one of the many projects that will make a huge safety improvement for the citizens and students of Nicholas County," Willis said.

Nighbert said to several dozen seventh and eighth grade students from the classes of Tony Smith and Sarah Lambert, who were present during the ceremony and assisted Nighbert with unveiling a project sign.
