Here's a radical idea that I think most voters would embrace: Let's have a gubernatorial debate that is limited strictly to the accomplishments and failures of Governor Ernie Fletcher's administration.

Fletcher would be allowed to pick his administration's five most significant achievements. Democratic challenger Steve Beshear would be allowed to pick five areas in which he feels Fletcher has failed.

Fletcher has mastered the Jim Host trick of firing off a string of statistics and claims, staccato-fashion, without giving the audience a chance to respond.

Bond's Broadcast

Here I was looking through my e-mails and there was one from Mr. Miller, titled, CATS scores.

He did exactly what I asked and here are the scores for the District Spring 2006 - 66.2 for Spring 2007 - 74.2.

District officials already knew that test scores were improving and that it is essentially what the goal is.

Steve's Report

By Steve Seiff

Back in August 1998, we had just gotten stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington and I was looking for cheap, reliable transportation to get back and forth from work.

This testing people do to determine what you can do to improve your work.

The Wrong Prescription for Kentucky's Children

Last week, the House passed legislation that would reauthorize the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP).

When students in their freshman year do not pass the ACT or the SAT test, the only way to improve the scores was to retake the test.
