SCHOOL 4H/FFA livestock show is held

The youth of the Nicholas County 4-H/FFA Livestock Club held the fourth annual livestock show and sale at West End Park Sept. 4.

This year's sale was a huge success with an increased number in attendance and a large number of bidders. The total sale of the five market animals grossed $5,988.

The 4-H/FFA Livestock Show and Sale provide young adults the chance to show and profit for their hours of hard work. Projects involved in the raising the livestock provides a valuable experience for those who participate and helps educate participants in developing life skills like responsibility, leadership, business principles, agriculture practices, family interaction and friendship across the county and state.

The show and sale are open to individuals and businesses. The purchase or donations of the animals are 100 percent tax deductible and provide assistance in supporting the 4-H and FFA programs of Nicholas County.

The members of the Nicholas County 4-H/FFA Livestock Club extend their deep appreciation to those individuals and businesses that purchased animals.

These include: United Producers of Paris, Eldin Ginn, John Cleaver, Doug Wright, Jabotown Mill, Farm Credit Services of Maysville, Fleming Meat Packers, Whitaker Bank, Deposit Bank of Carlisle, Clairbrook Farm, Farm Bureau of Paris, Carolyn Meyer Auctioneer and Sonia McCarty, assistant and Teddy Detson and the Bourbon County Hospital.

Special thanks are also extended to the Nicholas County Homemakers, staff of the Nicholas County Extension Office, Memories and More, Carlisle Gifts and Collectibles, Robin Myer Auctioneer and Sonia McCarty, assistant and auctioneer.

"In my 23 years of experience as an obstetrician, I have seen many miracles. The miracle of birth is awesome and I'm so proud to be a part of that joyous occasion for so many couples."
