about activities occurring both in Carlisle and at the West End Park.

"I give everyone's effort an A," he said. "There are a lot of organizers and individuals that are helping out."

Clark told council members he believed the carnival that would be established at the park on the baseball field would be "real good!"

"We'll try to get someone for downtown to play music," Shroat said. Any interested party is urged to contact Shroat...

A dunking booth will be located at the park during the festival and city police officers say they will take turns in the booth to the pleasure of the crowd.

The annual parade and crowning of the blackberry Festival Queen will take place Thursday evening July 3 at 7 p.m. in downtown Carlisle.

"The Declaration of Independence will be read downtown just before the parade comes through town," Watkins said.

One aspect of the parade organizers hope will add flare is the bike-decorating contest.
