

OPINION

Heaven Is A Lot Like Kentucky

MYSTERIOUS WAYS
Spring, 2008, near the Henryville Cemetery on the outskirts of Carlisle.

Continued from last week.
The Lord works in mysterious ways, dear reader.
Even 38 years after the freight in the small hamlet near the Laotian border, Ernie Carmiche could still hear the dull ringing in his ears from where the North Vietnamese Chicom grenade had exploded so close to him that night.

but other than that the cemetery largely still resembled a thicket.
The Lord works in mysterious ways, dear reader.
Even 38 years after the freight in the small hamlet near the Laotian border, Ernie Carmiche could still hear the dull ringing in his ears from where the North Vietnamese Chicom grenade had exploded so close to him that night.

The ringing was more noticeable for some reason or another, from time to time, and as he stood near the summit of the rise on the far side of the Henryville Cemetery this day the ringing seemed to lessen, back to its regular steady tone as he stood before the graves and he beheld the result of countless hours of clearing an overgrown thicket to reveal the final resting place of several hundred Henryville residents that one outnumbered their white neighbors in Carlisle.

On Feb. 5, 1971, Dexter and a small group of infant soldiers found a cache of AK-47 rifles in a Vietnamese hamlet.
The NVA wanted them back, and set an ambush.
A claymore mine had detonated near Dexter and severely wounded him while killing his scout dog and six other men.

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Heston Is A Lot Like Kentucky
by Charles Heston

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Ernie Carmiche himself survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.
Dexter miraculously survived and spent the next 17 years in a wheelchair.

Advertisement for Bourbon Drive-In, featuring movie listings for Iron Man, Indiana Jones, and Star Wars.

Advertisement for Jim Lovell, Kentucky Rep., highlighting his leadership and accomplishments.

Advertisement for Dan Cummins, State Representative, with contact information and a slogan.

Pauline Art Lanum
1915-2008
Pauline Art Lanum, 92, of Lexington passed Saturday May 10, 2008 at her residence in Ewing on December 27, 1974 in Johnson County, KY.

Kathleen Lynn Bailey
1974-2008
Kathleen Lynn Bailey, 33, passed away on May 9, 2008. She was born July 30, 1974 in Johnson County, KY and was the daughter of the late Asbery and Flora Joseph Bailey.

James W. "Bill" Wood
1924-2008
James W. "Bill" Wood, 83, of Millersburg, died Tuesday, May 6, 2008 at the Bourbon Community Hospital. He was born Friday, August 22, 1924 in Nicholas County to the late Leonard Thompson and Bala Leslie Rowland Wood.

Nicholas County to the late Bill was a retired Master Mason at the Magoffin County Funeral Home Chapel with Bethel, Simon, Porter, and Dicks Coffin officiating. Burial followed in the Bailey Cemetery on Salt Lick in Magoffin County. Arrangements were under the direction of the Magoffin County Funeral Home.

Obituary for a woman who lived in Millersburg, KY, mentioning her family and funeral arrangements.

Phyllis Hess Cox
1913-2008
Phyllis Hess Cox, 95, widow of Charles M. Cox, died Thursday May 8, 2008. She was born on Easter Sunday, March 23, 1913 in Middletown, Henry County, Indiana to the late Raymond and Altha (Showalter) Hess and was the oldest of their four children.

Phyllis Hess Cox, 95, widow of Charles M. Cox, died Thursday May 8, 2008. She was born on Easter Sunday, March 23, 1913 in Middletown, Henry County, Indiana to the late Raymond and Altha (Showalter) Hess and was the oldest of their four children.

Phyllis Hess Cox, 95, widow of Charles M. Cox, died Thursday May 8, 2008. She was born on Easter Sunday, March 23, 1913 in Middletown, Henry County, Indiana to the late Raymond and Altha (Showalter) Hess and was the oldest of their four children.

Phyllis Hess Cox, 95, widow of Charles M. Cox, died Thursday May 8, 2008. She was born on Easter Sunday, March 23, 1913 in Middletown, Henry County, Indiana to the late Raymond and Altha (Showalter) Hess and was the oldest of their four children.

Phyllis Hess Cox, 95, widow of Charles M. Cox, died Thursday May 8, 2008. She was born on Easter Sunday, March 23, 1913 in Middletown, Henry County, Indiana to the late Raymond and Altha (Showalter) Hess and was the oldest of their four children.

OBITUARIES

Obituary for a woman who lived in Millersburg, KY, mentioning her family and funeral arrangements.

Advertisement for Clark Funeral Home, providing contact information and services.

Advertisement for Classifieds, offering a service to meet needs with small ads and big deals.

Large advertisement for Dan Cummins, State Representative, featuring a portrait and contact information.

Advertisement for Pontiac Revolution, a used car franchise.