Rotary honors local hero

Thursday (Feb. 26), the Carlisle Rotary Club invited Army Specialist Brad Stone and wife Shelly to provide the program for the evening. Spec. Stone, a Nicholas County resident, is a member of the 223rd Military Police Company of the Kentucky National Guard and just returned from his second tour in Iraq. He began his military career as a Marine, but was given a medical discharge after suffering a severe shoulder injury.

until he finally convinced the National Guard that he was fit to serve. Shelly, who managed to care of their children, ages 2 and 11, while her husband was deployed, is completing her final semester of Nursing School. Spec. Stone spoke at length about the dramatic difference between his first deployment to Iraq in 2005 and his most recent deployment. "My third day in country, we got hit by an improvised explosive device. It seems like we were getting hit all the time. There is no comparison to the way it is now. They have made questions while careful. Spec. Stone must have learned from watching topics. The Commanding General, because he answered all questions like a true professional - providing a truthful and complete one.

Jolly and Hunt plead guilty

By Charles Mattox News Reporter charlesm@carlislemercury.com

Two Nicholas County men, arrested for taking a freighter's vehicle early on December morning as the freighter valiantly battled a blaze, have entered pleas of guilty and will be formally sentenced next month. Paul Douglas Jolly, 45, and Douglas E. Hunt, 51, both of Nicholas County, appeared in Nicholas Circuit Court March 3 and entered pleas of guilty to the charges of their unlawful taking, worth $500. In return for the plea agreements a charge of persistent felony offender, was dismissed for both men, on a motion from Commonwealth Attorney Doug Wright and Assistant Commonwealth Attorney Michael Lawa. Both men allegedly took a vehicle belonging to Nicholas County Fireman Scott Allison on Dec. 28 in the early morning hours as firefighters were responding to
