Bath County High School Marching Band

Every year the Bath County High School Marching Band performs several different shows for the half time entertainment of Friday night football games. This year the marching band was led on the field by field commander Sam- uel Adams. Most marching bands do one show the entire season, however, the BCMS marching band plays four different shows that include 16 different tunes to practice, master, memorize and put drill to in a little under 12 weeks. Highlights for this year's show selections included The Lion Sleeps Tonight, Mission Impossible, Sir Duke, Tear the Roof Off Sucks and Chameleon. The marching band is an ensemble that meets solely after school on a volunteer basis.

New Ensemble Offered at BCMS

This year Bath County High School added a new ensemble to its music program that features only percussion. This percussion ensemble is made out of any student at BCMS that is interested in becoming a percussionist. If the students finish the class with distinguished percus-

Many students miss out on joining a musical ensemble when they were in middle school because they may have not known at the time they were interested in music. The new percussion ensemble will give kids a chance to get involved in the school and community, stay out of trouble, make lots of friends, be part of a team that needs 100% of everybody the entire time and will give them a great artistic outlet that will make them happier. The percussion ensemble will perform at the Bath County High School Spring Open House and also at the annual May Day festivities in downtown Owingsville. This year the ensemble will be making some heads turn as they perform works from the highly accredited percussion ensemble STOMP.
