New developments with the Chamber of Commerce

By Stephen Scalf Staff Writer

Although the Carlisle-Nicholas County Chamber of Commerce was technically formed earlier this year...

Thursday to discuss possible candidates, trying to select the best people, whether or not they were already members of the Chamber.

The initial contacts were very positive. Most individuals contacted recognize the need for a Chamber of Commerce and the importance of becoming involved.

Ellisville Homemakers

by Faye Buzzard

Ellisville Homemakers started its new year in Sept. 2009 at the Nicholas Co. Library. We had 13 members and 1 guest member and county agent Kim Leger presided.

Phyllis Brady had our devotionals and prayer. We had a few business matters to talk about and fill out our books for the New Year, our year is from Sept. through June. Our Sept. lesson was on elected officials, so we turned the meeting over to our Buzzard read the minutes.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Shay Brumley

Shay is a bright, positive girl who is a pleasure to be around. She has realized the importance of completing her high school career and has buckled down to do just that.

Chelsea Briher

I would like to nominate Chelsea Briher for the Student Spotlight Showcase. I have known her since my 1st period English III class, and she is a pleasure to have in class.

Nathan Faulkner

Nay-Nay is a sophomore in Nicholas County. He is very active in the school and is manager on the boys' basketball team.

Nicholas Mitchell

Nicholas is a good student. He comes to class with a positive attitude. I never have to tell him to do things more than once.

Middle School Cheerleaders The Middle School Cheerleaders gave tremendous support to the Junior High Lady Jackets during their county against Fleming County Monday night. The cheerleaders are under the direction of Becca Taylor and Jordan Letcher.
