STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Hanna Mills, a sophomore at NCHS, most definitely deserves attention for her immense success. Most definitely a believer in the old adage that it is better to "let the ground run over" Hanna has taken to her biology class like a fish to water. Not only is she always prepared and incredibly patient, but she is also polite and respectful to her classmates and teacher. Though she is always diligent in completing assignments and giving her full attention and energy to the coursework, Hanna has not only shined academically, but also personally. Her success and positive influence on the entire class, she is an indispensable positive influence on the entire class, she is an indispensable positive influence on the entire class, she is an indispensable positive influence on the entire class.

Long the class at NCHS while doing college sports, Vincent McNabb caught our attention this week. Over the past year Sam has matured into young adulthood. She has demonstrated her maturity by stepping up and being a leader in her classes. Sam's attitude has dramatically changed over the summer as well. Sam is always willing to complete tasks in the bank and give 110% while doing so. It is a pleasure to have Sam in Class. -Givvy Lane
