Winter arrived early for Nicholas County and the surrounding region with temperatures plummeting and up to four inches of snow blanketing the landscape. School was cancelled Monday and Tuesday and class schedules are unknown for the rest of the week as the Mercury prepares to go to press while another major winter storm looms on the horizon. "Our county road crews have been going since early this morning," Nicholas County Judge-Executive Larry Tincher said Monday morning. County and state road crews have been working on main and secondary roads non-stop since late Sunday evening and early Monday morning. Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) road crews in Department of Highways District 9 continue to battle snow and ice across north-east Kentucky. Pavement conditions were reported to be mostly to completely covered, with snow accumulation from two to four inches in Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Greenup, Lewis, Mason, Nicholas and Rowan counties. Air temperature ranges from 20 to 22 degrees with road temperatures between 18 and 20 degrees on Monday morning. Temperatures dropped to single digits Monday evening and early Tuesday morning with wind gusts pushing temperatures even lower, below the zero mark by many estimates.

Nicholas County Emergency Management Director Calvin Denton reporting instances of snow drifts along high ridges that characterize several of the county's secondary roads. State highway crews will remain on 12-hour shifts, plowing snow and treating roadways with ice-melting chemicals until the winter storm threat subsides. KYTC Information Officer Allan Blair recommends that motorists drive with caution, take it slow on snow-covered roadways and leave early to arrive at destinations on time. State highway crews in northeast Kentucky are continuing to clear roads today after snow showers blanketed the region overnight. Conditions on Priority A routes – Interstate 64, US

23, the AA Highway, US 60, KY 32 and others – range from clear to partly covered throughout Department of Highways District 9 in Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Greenup, Lewis, Mason, Nicholas and Rowan counties. Motorists should drive with caution and watch for blowing or drifting snow. You can keep up with snow removal efforts by following District 9 online at <http://transportation.ky.gov/d9>, or via Facebook at <http://facebook.com/KYTCDistrict9>. Or, keep up with snow plows statewide using KYTC's online Snow & Ice Treatment Map at http://kycgis.ky.gov/snow_ice/. Hawkins death investigation continues

Law enforcement officers and other emergency responders were called to an East Union Home during the evening of Dec. 8, where they found Teddy Hawkins, 18, deceased as a result of injuries sustained from a gunshot wounds.

Officials say the investigation remains open, but the investigation thus far indicates the guns shot was from a 12 gauge shotgun and was self inflicted. Police say young Mr. Hawkins was home alone at the time of the shooting. Police and school say they had 'no immediate indication' of any reason why Mr. Hawkins would take his life. Hawkins body was discovered by a family member who contacted police. Carlisle Police Officer Benny Buckler was the first officer on the scene and continues to investigate the death. Officer Buckler arrived at approximately 8:30 p.m., and was joined by

Carlisle Chief of Police William Denton and fellow officers; Sgt. Darrell Layne and Officer Guy Turner. Police were joined on the scene by members of the Nicholas County EMS and Nicholas County Coroner Kevin Hatchet and Assistant Coroner Todd Allison. Hatchet and Allison pronounced Hawkins dead shortly after arriving at 9:30 p.m. Investigators found no suicide note. Hawkins was a student at Nicholas County High School and NCHS Counselor Kasey Miller and other staff members assisted students Friday from Hawkins' "circle of friends" as well as teachers and other school personnel who knew and will miss the junior Bluejacket, whom Officer Buckler described as "a quiet kind of young man." Buckler stressed that there were no signs of foul play, but does urge anyone with any information which might be related to Hawkins' death to contact the Carlisle Police Station at 289-3710.

Amish buggy struck by car

By Charles Mattox

charles@thecarlislemercury.com

Several recent accidents damaged vehicles and required medical assistance for motorists and passengers including a Dec. 12 afternoon accident on Lower Jackstown Road involving a car striking an Amish horse and buggy. According to an accident report completed by Nicholas County Sheriff David Gray, George Sapp, 71, of Paris, was travelling on Lower Jackstown Road when the 2000 Buick Lesabre, he was driving, struck the rear end of a horse drawn Amish buggy driven by Melvin Eicher, 27 and occupied by Girod Monno, 33, both of East Union road. The buggy was damaged and the pregnant horse pulling the buggy sustained injury but no occupants requested medical treatment. Sapp's vehicle was otherwise unoccupied. A single-vehicle Dec. 11 on Gravel Road sent one man to the hospital. Police say Dallas Vaughn, 18, of Upper Lick Road, Carlisle, was driving a 1992 Ford Escort on Gravel Road when he swerved to avoid a dog in the road. The vehicle Vaughn was driving left the right side of the road, struck and earthen embankment and came to rest. Vaughn was taken to Nicholas County Hospital emergency room by private owned vehicle, according to the accident report. Jonathan Meade, 45, of Ewing, was driving a 2006, F-250 Ford Truck on Mt. Mariah Road on Dec. 10

when he lost control of the truck, which ran off the road, struck a culvert, went up an incline and turned onto its side. Angela Meade and Tim Hardin, both also of Ewing were passengers in the Meade vehicle. Tim Wilson, 31, of Carlisle, was driving a 2005 Hyundai Sport Utility Vehicle on Maysville Road Dec. 10 at approximately 7:15 a.m.,

when he fell asleep. The Wilson vehicle crossed the eastbound lane of traffic, left the roadway and struck a rock embankment, which caused the vehicle to flip and come to rest on its top. Members of the Nicholas County EMS treated Wilson at the scene and transported him to Bourbon Community hospital. Wilson was the sole occupant of the vehicle.

Howitzer in the courthouse yard

By Bobby Anderson

Although the cannon sitting in the courthouse lawn has become a noted and interesting landmark in Nicholas County, the story of how it happened to come to rest there is just as interesting and came about through the efforts of several individuals, none more significant than Bobby Anderson, who shared the chain of events that brought the cannon to Carlisle. Prior to World War 2 (WW 2), I vaguely remember a small Cannon being on the west side yard of the courthouse. That is all I knew about it. I found out much later in life that because of the war, it was collected by the government to use the metal from the cannons in that conflict. In September of 1972,

I was employed by the Kentucky Army National Guard (KyARNG) at the old National Guard armory located on east Main Street next to the Southern states complex. One September afternoon Ernest Sosby stopped by while I was outside taking a break. We struck up a conversation which eluded to the cannon that had been in the courthouse yard prior to WWII. He asked if I remembered it, and I responded that I barely did because I was very young, probably four or five years old then. Ernest stated that we should try to get another one and I agreed. Then sometime in the fall of 1973 Ernest came to me and asked if the National Guard would help in trying to get a cannon. I told him I was only a member of the National Guard and no longer

PRAYERS IN

".... You might have tracked the army from White Marsh to Valley Forge by the blood of their feet,"

General George Washington, Pennsylvania on the Dec. 19, 1777 ragged condition of his sickly, half-naked and frozen, army of 12,000 soldiers as they entered their winter campsite of Valley Forge, Barely 8,000 would walk out of the camp the following spring.

"God grant we may never be brought to such a wretched condition again,"

General Nathaniel Greene, in a letter to General George Washington, regarding his thoughts on Valley Forge.

"Father (Michael Cassidy) rose with a tomahawk in his hand, by which time he had received several tomahawk blows from the Indians over his head and face-his under jaw being badly fractured on both sides-as he rose he cut his way through, breaking their hold on him and as he emerged from the glare of the fire into the darkness beyond, an Indian threw his tomahawk, which struck him between the shoulders,"

Francis Cassidy, second-born son of Michael Cassidy, on the violent autumn 1785 incident near the Nicholas/Bourbon County border, during which five Shawnee warriors killed Mathias Spahr and William Bennett, and in which Michael Cassidy, was also nearly killed.

December 1785, near the present-day community of Winchester, Ky., Michael Cassidy lay within the small, dreary confines of the cabin of the late Mathias Spahr.

Occasionally he regained consciousness, but mostly he drifted in and out of a fever-induced delirium.

His friends and neighbors had tended to his horrible wounds as best they could and simply tried to keep him comfortable until he died.

The inhabitants of Captain John Strode's Station were all too familiar with death. Most of the residents had lost family members since coming to the wilderness in 1779, so death was no stranger.

What was strange was the fact that this little Irishman simply would not die. They had no idea how he had escaped the five Shawnee warriors after being so badly injured.

No one understood how he could yet live.

Cassidy's pitiful moaning and crazed talk, day-after-day and night-after-night, coupled with the horrible, horrible facial wounds the poor man had suffered; well, only the strongest among them could stay with him for any real length of time and change his soiled bed linen every other day.

And then, finally after weeks of lingering between life and death, Cassidy had started to heal, though he was often overcome with delirious, fever-induced fits.

The tough little Irishman had survived seven major battles during the Revolutionary War, had survived the frozen Hell of Valley Forge, and miraculously survived a suicidal charge to save Captain John Fleming's life during the 1782 Battle of Upper Blue Licks, following his arrival to the Kentucky frontier. He "came to the wilderness" after the surrender of the British at Yorktown and being awarded a British officers sword for his heroics during the battle.

So many empty promises of peace that had never materialized, following the supposed end of hostilities of the Revolutionary War, had left Cassidy and most of the Kentuckians bitter.

When not buffalo hunting with the others, Captain Fleming, who still moved slowly from his own wounds, would stop by the Spahr cabin and play his fiddle for his close friend.

And to the tune of Fleming's fiddle, Michael Cassidy swam in and out of delirious dreams in which he relived his adventuresome, and often troublesome, life.

A quarrel between himself and his older brother Andrew over a few pennies to be spent at a Dublin, Ireland boarding school had led to his stubborn decision at 14-years-of age, to leave Ireland and stow away on an American-bound sailing ship: The Maryland Merchant.

Sold upon arrival in America to a tanner; William Creighton of Martinsburg, for his passage to America, Michael had been treated kindly but put to work in Creighton's Tannery, where long, grueling hours of physical labor made the small Irishman as strong as an ox.

Creighton negated the latter years of Michael's indentured servitude to him upon his enlistment in the 4th Virginia Regiment of colonial militia soldiers, a unit whose members fought ferociously under General George Washington. And most of the war had been an utter and complete failure, with the low coming at Valley Forge in that frozen and deadly winter of 1777-1778.

As the Angel of Death continued to seduce Cassidy during the winter of 1785-1786, his neighbors prayed for his recovery and when he was aware of their prayers he was reminded once more to his prayers during another December, while at Valley Forge.

And day after day as he and his fellow soldiers fought starvation and freezing and small pox and dysentery and loss of hope at Valley Forge; their eyes would turn as one to their leader, General George Washington.

And Washington never appeared to lose hope.

Never appeared to lose faith though he'd come so close that December.

Had even wrote his letter of resignation while at Valley Forge, but when taking one last walk through camp was uplifted by the cheers of his men. He'd returned to his writing desk and thrown the letter into the fire.

It is near this moment when it is believed Washington prayed alone in the woods of Valley Forge; a scene depicted in the wonderful 1976 painting "The Prayer at Valley Forge" by the late master Arnold Friberg.

The soldiers at Valley Forge, just like their General, fought back despair and found a new and strengthened faith, fueled by prayers in December.

Cassidy no doubt mumbled his own prayers at Valley Forge and incoherent prayers, as he lay on his death bed eight winters later in the Spahr Cabin.

He would recover, though it would take more than a year before he was able to hunt and scout alone in the woods again. And there would be other hardships as Michael Cassidy traveled the paths and scouted for the growing settlements that would one day grow into Robertson, Fleming, Nicholas, Bath and Menifee County.

And just as his family members grew from ten children, some of whom married into other large families, Cassidy's modern descendants can't readily be counted, though I've had the pleasure of meeting a few of them over my years of research on our amazing heritage.

We will join Michael Cassidy again within the confines of this column, if the Good Lord is willing. Until then, dear reader, remember your prayers in December.

Kyle's Outlook

NBA

The NBA season is now underway as it's been a full two weeks now. In the offseason all the talk was a about the Miami Heat. Can LeBron James, Dwayne Wade, and Chris Bosh co-exist and win a championship. Could they also do the impossible and break the 2 win mark set by the Bulls back in the 90's. However they lost the first game of the season to the Boston Celtics and everyone counted them out. They are currently third in the east behind the Orlando Magic and Atlantic Hawks.

There are some surprising teams so far early in the season. One being the New Orleans Hornets who are not only being led by Chris Paul but Emeka Oakeefer is finally emerging into a player that everyone thought he would be, coming out of college. Another surprising team is the Charlotte Bobcats but not in a good way. After making the playoffs last season they aren't playing very well winning only one games so far this season.

A bright spot in the NBA is how well 2 Kentucky point guards are playing right. First off the young veteran Rejon Rondo is now the true leader of the Celtics and his play, especially his assists are remarkable. ESPN, had a poll as of the first two weeks, who would be the MVP and Rondo won the voting. Another player off to a terrific start is point guard John Wall. The number one draft pick has played well above advertised, putting up triple-double like numbers every single night and was named captain by the team. He has a chance to be an all-star and a top 5 NBA player by the end of the season. College Football

How impressive where the Wisconsin Badgers who put up a record breaking scoring game?. The Badgers put up a ridiculous 83 points against the Indiana Hoosiers. Now the Hoosiers aren't a great football team by any means but to let a team score 83 points. I'd be so embarrassed and that team needs help. They need players and coaches. The Badgers aren't even a great team. There a good team but not the elite team. This game could catch a lot of eyes for BCS voters Boise ST. keeps rolling along not having any problems. They rolled past Idaho 58-6 an I'm telling you that Boise St deserves to play in the national championship game. What more does that team have to prove besides win every single game and blowout every single opponent. Keller Moore is the most underrated player in the history of college football. The number one team in the nation, Oregon, just survived a big score from rival California. This game went down to the wire with Oregon winning 15-13. California's had a chance to tie the game but couldn't convert on the two point conversion. Oregon didn't look like the normal high powered offense that they have shown over the season.

When you hear the name Florida and Texas, first thoughts would be top five teams, national championship contenders. Not this year as both are now unranked. Both Texas and Florida have struggled this season offensively and mainly at the quarterback position. Florida coming off the Tallow era and Colt McCoy for Texas. Neither team will be in a major bowl game this year.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Raymond Snapp whose funeral was Friday and burial at Barterville with military honors. The Church there served food for the family and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Green and Mr & Mrs. Bobby Brady, Mr & Mrs. Michael Davis and little Shelby were among a very large crowd who enjoyed the Woodmen of the World

Christmas Supper held at the 4-H Center, Cynthiana, on Friday night. Jeff Doyle asked the blessing. Charles and Shelby Doyle cooked the turkeys and the hams, the tea and other things with potluck and also decorated tables and tree, purchased many door prizes and wrapped and gave many poinsettias too. Jeff and two others gave talks. Pledge to the flag was given. Donnie, Billy and Jennie Doyle also helped with this annual event. The Saltwell United Methodist Women held their Christmas Meeting on Saturday night with 14 present.

Phyllis Gaunce gave a good devotional. Prayer by Betty Livingood. The program was given by Esther Weidle and also during this she asked each to share a family tradition or a special gift or memory and this opened up a wonderful time of memories. Molly Smith read the minutes and roll call with each answering with their favorite Christmas Carol and number of sick visits made and charities given which was a total of 49 visits and 92 charities. The project for this month was bringing scarves, gloves, taboggins and etc, for the needy. The calendar was partially made out for next year. The projects and who to have the lessons and who to have the meal. Tonights meal is potluck always in December. Sarah Smith Jarvis and Molly Smith did the decorating tables and had made Ginger Bread houses out of candy and made each one a ginger bread ornament and even the door prize was a stuffed gingerbread man, won by Sue Tanner. Secret Pal gifts were exchanged and new names drawn. A wonderful night of Christian friendship and fellowship, nearing the end of a blessed year.

LIFESTYLE

Bread of Life

John 3:16 For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. The life God is referring to is not only life in Heaven when we leave this Earth, it is the abundant life of God himself. God sacrificed His Son Jesus, so that we might be saved from Hell, if we accept Him into our heart as our Lord and Savior, but it is much more than Hell that he has saved us from. Jesus came and laid down His life to deliver us from all the pain of the curse—here and now as well as in the hereafter. He was actually made a curse for us so the blessing of Abraham might come on us through Him. (Galatians 3:14). The blessing of Abraham is the same Blessing God gave man kind in the Garden of Eden. Genesis 1:28 God blessed them, and God said unto them, be fruitful, and multiply and replenish the Earth and subdue it: and have dominion.” It’s the power of God that would have enabled the family of man to expand Eden until it covered the whole planet. As we all know Adam sinned and gave it away, when he did God brought about His plan to reinstate it. Through Jesus the Blessing could be made available to all mankind once again. God so loved the world He gave Jesus to get the blessing back. He paid the greatest price that has ever been paid for anything. That’s why we celebrate Christmas with giving, because Jesus is the Greatest Gift that has ever been given. He came to give us back the blessing. Salvation, gifts of the spirit (Cor 12) healing, financial prosperity, being baptized with the Holy Spirit. These are all part of the Blessing. The Blessing is today, just as it was in the beginning, the power of God to be fruitful, multiply and have dominion in every area of life, spirit, soul, and body. God sent Jesus to bless us. That’s the good news. It’s the gospel Jesus has commissioned as His disciples, to go into all the earth and preach to every creature. What most Christmas don’t understand is that Jesus has turned over the Blessing to us. It’s not like His job to walk around now, laying hands on people, expressing God’s love to them and meeting their needs. He has delegated that responsibility to the church, which is His body. Jesus cant fulfill all things without His body. So he needs you and me to fulfill his mission of blessing. The gift of the Blessing both the message and the power of it has now been put into our hands so we can give it to the world. Fondest Memories

By Melissa Mitchell
 Editor
 editor@thecarlislemercury.com

With winter approaching us fast and furiously, it brings back some good warm memories of some fun times that my family and I shared.

For instance, on one snowy cold evening, a bunch of us decided to go out to Papaw Scotts farm on Locust Grove Road, to go sleigh riding. We were going to spend several hours on the farm having some great winter fun times.

We gathered firewood to build a fire, some brought marshmallows, and hotdogs to roast over the open fire. Several brought their sleighs, from car hoods, inner tubes, to the old fashion red runner sleds. Snow started to fly as we all started to race down the hill to see which one would get to the bottom faster. Well, I have to say the ones on the car hoods reached the bottom a lot quicker than the others. We tumbled, rolled, and slid in the snow. So much fun we were having, that we didn’t want to stop, we all decided that we would sleigh ride and sit by the open fire until way up in the night. Some of the kids, built snowmen, had snowball fights, made snow angels and even Mamaw Scott came out to gather snow for snow cream.

I can smell the roasting marshmallows and hotdogs right now, oh what a great moment this was. This was something that was enjoyable, didn’t cost a lot, and everyone enjoyed.

With the snow that fell over this past weekend, I wonder how many kids or families took the time to go out and share a childhood moment with sleigh riding. Think back to the times when we were kids about how we went out and enjoyed the snow, we so excited that we were out of school and could go and play.

My girls when they were little would go out and play in the snow. Darwin and the two girls on one winter snowy day went out to the front yard with five gallon buckets to build a snow cave. Dressed in their coveralls, hats, and gloves they construction site was in progress. After about an hour, Darwin was ready to come in, but the girls were still wanting to play, we showed them how to make snow angels, even attempted snow cream. They giggled because they just thought this was the best thing to be able to do.

Once they finally tired out, with rosy cheeks and red fingers, I prepared them some hot chocolate to warm their little bodies up. Needless to say they warmed up a great deal faster than Darwin and I, and they wanted to go back out and play. So the girls went back out in the snow but this time they were going to sleigh ride behind the house. It was right funny to watch them, they would get about half way down the hill and then lean over so they would fall off and roll the rest of the way down the hill. Such memorable moments to watch your kids play in the snow like I did when I was little. Now they have grown up they don’t want to go out in the cold snow to play.

But we still laugh about the times that they did. Until next week, keep the memories rolling, stay warm and be safe!

SAINT JOSEPH HEALTH SYSTEM AND PARTNERS WITH NICHOLAS CO.

Carlisle and Lexington, KY – Nicholas County Hospital (part of Johnson Mathers Health Care, Inc) today announced that Saint Joseph Health System will provide management and oversight of the hospital beginning next month. Johnson Mathers Health Care, Inc – now JMHC, Inc. is the private, not for profit organization that operates Nicholas County Hospital, located in Carlisle.

Earlier this year, Johnson Mathers engaged Saint Joseph Health System to provide a strategic planning development process for the board of directors to help determine the future direction for the hospital and healthcare delivery in the community. Based on these discussions, SJHS recently submitted a proposal to the Nicholas County Hospital Board for SJHS to manage the hospital for three years. Saint Joseph Health System is not acquiring Nicholas County Hospital.

“Saint Joseph Health System has demonstrated the ability to operate large and small facilities in both rural and urban areas while sharing best practices and improving quality of care across all locations,” said Doris Ecton, current administrator of Nicholas County Hospital. “We look forward to working closely with them so that we may expand services and improve care for our local community.”

Gene Woods, CEO of Saint Joseph Health system, added, “When our facilities came together three years ago as Saint Joseph Health System, our primary goal was to deliver quality care close to home. Through our partnership with Nicholas County Hospital, we can extend the reach of that care to another community in Kentucky.”

As part of the management agreement, which is effective January 1, 2011, Saint Joseph Health System (SJHS) will provide the following services: Oversight. SJHS will provide management oversight of the hospital, including the rural health clinic known as JMHC Rural Health Clinic. Facility Administrator and Director of Nursing. SJHS will employ a hospital administrator and nursing director to provide management services and administrative direction. All other employees of Nicholas County Hospital will remain employees of that hospital.

Kentucky adds 1 Million names to the Organ Donor Registry

Today, one million Kentuckians have joined the Kentucky Organ Donor Registry.

"Reaching this milestone will give hope to the hundreds of patients, and their families, in need of organ transplants. The people of Kentucky have shown they want to save lives," explains Roger L. Schott, Laurel Co. Circuit Court Clerk & Board President of the Kentucky Circuit Court Clerks' Trust For Life.

There are over 108,000 men, women and children in the U.S. on the transplant waiting list. Tragically, 18 Americans die each day awaiting a life-saving organ transplant. Today, almost 700 Kentuckians are in need of this gift of life.

"The Kentucky Circuit Court Clerks and our Trust For Life have been working towards this milestone since the Kentucky Organ Donor Registry began in 2006," explains Schott.

The Kentucky Circuit Court Clerks are vital to this mission because they ask each person obtaining their license or state ID if they would like to add their name to the Registry. The Circuit Clerks add over 98% of names to the Kentucky Organ Donor Registry.

"This is a huge victory for Kentucky, but it is just the beginning. Now we begin adding 2 million names. We will not slow down until every Kentuckian is educated on the need for more organ donors in our state. We will not stop until every patient who needs an organ transplant receives their gift of life," explains Schott.

In 2009, 286 successful organ transplants were performed in Kentucky. It is estimated that twice as many could have been performed if more people said YES to organ donation. Kentucky residents can join the Kentucky Organ Donor Registry at their Circuit Court Clerks' office or online at www.donatelifeky.org.

The Kentucky Circuit Court Clerks' Trust For Life is a 501C(3) non-profit organization that informs, educates, and encourages Kentuckians to be organ & tissue donors. For more information call 1-866-945-5433, email info@trustforlife.org or go to www.trustforlife.org. Executive Director, Shelley Heavrin, can be reached by cell phone at 502-322-5401. To contact your county's Circuit Court Clerk go to www.kycourts.net for more information.

Dear Santa,
Hello Santa, my name is Hadyen Klay Thompson, gosh can you believe I'm now a big 5 years old. 2010 has been a very busy year for me. I started school in August, as you know it's not easy for a boy like me to be good all the time. But for the most part I did start the year off good. I'm learning new rules and enjoying my time in Mrs. Vice and Mrs. Ritchie's classroom. If you ask mom or dad they will tell you how great they think I am. Of course I'm a little spoiled, but mom says that's what I'm for.
Now moving on I hope you remember my address from the years before, and thanks for all the gift from last year. You always seem to know how to make a child happy on Christmas morning. It must take months for Mrs. Clause and all your friends at the North Pole to prepare for the big day. On my list for Christmas this year would be a new Nintendo DSI, with some games, a few new games for the Wii, a truck n gooseneck, a farm set with new tractors, a IXL learning system with a Toy Story game, a portable DVD with some new movies, a Toy Story Cube, some new clothes, new shoes. And one important item on my list is a bow n arrow, Daddy tells me every boy needs one to go hunting. Just don't ask what we're going hunting for! Auntie K also tells me I need a new piggy bank to learn to save money. I do like to spend every dollar I get. And I will take anything else you would like to leave, Like I said before I'm spoiled.
I will leave you some milk and cookies under the tree, and there will be carrots for the reindeers. Don't forget to stop by Mamaws and Papaws on your way to my house. My cousins Carter and Kinsee are great kids, so make sure they are on your list. Don't forget about all the friends I've made at school and Mrs. Vice and Mrs. Ritchie are great teachers who deserve something special. Enjoy your trip to Carlisle, Kentucky and be careful.
Love your Lil man

CRAZY HORSE LADY

Brrr! Wow, talk about frigid weather! Did I miss something, isn't this our usual January weather? Talk about an unexpected snap in weather! Brrr! Brrr! and Brrr! I guess you have gotten my point! I nearly froze my feet and fingers off while doing barn chores. Mind you, I'm not a big complainer but I hate to be uncomfortably cold. As I have mentioned in the past, it just gets a little worse each year. Shh. I think it has something to do with getting older. Anyways, I decided that I just could not wait to wear my new BOGS (these are boots) until I got them for Christmas. Needless to say, I have one less gift to open but I guess my loving husband felt sorry enough for me that he agreed that I should be wearing them even if it meant not waiting until Christmas. Well, this certainly took care of my tootsies, but not my hands. I decided that I wasn't going to settle with that either, so I went to Tractor Supply and purchased a nice pair of leather Thinsulate work gloves. Oh...so nice! Don't you just love it when you come up with such smart ideas and they really end up doing what you expect right from the start? Of course, I hate to be bothered with breaking in a new pair of leather gloves, but I guess it beats having frost bitten fingertips. You ever notice though, a new pair of leather gloves is like walking around with hands that just don't seem to bend and work like you are use to. It reminds me of toddlers with their first pair of gloves that just don't quite fit right and they really don't know how to act with those silly things coverings their hands anyways. But just think, when I'm ready to use them again next year, they'll be all broken in and feel like a second skin. Nothing like a nice "broken in" pair of gloves. Neither one of these items were cheap but you know what, if you are going to have to be doing barn chores (no matter how much you love doing them) this time of year when it becomes a little more difficult to get motivated and to get them done, the least you can do for yourself is have the right outerwear. Believe me, I didn't want to spend the extra money on either one of these items. I just tell myself that in the long run they will make my life a little simpler and certainly much more comfortable, not to mention the time with my horses in my favorite place, "the barn", more enjoyable. One other thing I would like to stress to all my lady readers is the fact that just because we have to break down and buy these things that normally a man would wear, doesn't mean we have to settle for their choices. Believe me, just because I'm hanging out in my barn with only my horses, I still want to be comfortable, feel good about myself and of course, look good. Nowadays the retailers are catering more and more to the female equestrian lover and owner. They are making all sorts of items that normally would be considered "just for men" now for women, but in beautiful, classy, feminine styles and patterns. No need to look barn drab- by just because you enjoy the crisp air, shoveling manure, brushing and hanging out in the barn while spending time with your favorite equine friends. Have a little fun, live life, enjoy what you are wearing and doing, and don't be afraid to get the bright colors, paisley or other crazy patterns that suit your personality. There is no need to settle, not even in the barn. To share a funny with you, my husband looked at my boots (a pretty blue paisley print) and said "I thought you were getting just a plain black pair of boots like mine". My response was "why should I, when I can get these in a pretty, feminine pattern". Besides, who ever heard of husband and wife wearing the same boots? Come on ladies, it's a no brainer! Of course, I do have to quietly admit that may have been a little more expensive by $10 - $15 than just the plain ole' boring, no personality, black pair but it has been stated once or twice that beauty and style sometimes come at a small price. You know what my favorite saying is "Whatever" just ask my husband. □ So...break out of those dull ole barn clothes and don't be afraid to be a little different and express your personality. Until next week -God Bless You, Your Family, YOUR EQUINE FRIENDS and I pray you all have a safe, blessed, horse-filled week! Crazy Horse Lady

School officials, law enforcement officials, their family members and other s, helped 17 young Nicholas Countians enjoy shopping activities last Thursday evening. Several Carlisle Police Officers joined Chief of Police William Denton, jailer Jeff sidles, Nicholas County Sheriff's Deputy David Gray, members of the Carlisle Fire Department and school staff members in celebrating Christmas a little early this year.

Chief Denton praised the efforts of all involved and worked with school officials on the project that led all to doing some fun-filled Christmas shopping at Paris Walmart and later to McDonald's Restaurant for a trip to remember.

Teachers at the school submitted students for inclusion to the annual trip.

GENERAL NEWS

Officer undergoes surgery

By Charles Mattox
News Editor
charles@thecarlislemercury.com

Carlisle Police Officer Mark Snedegar underwent emergency cardiovascular surgery recently. He said Monday he feels great and appreciates all the well wishes and prayers extended to him during his stay at St. Joseph Hospital.

Snedegar has served the citizens of Carlisle and Nicholas County for almost four years and has been a law enforcement officer in the region for the past 21 years, having also served the citizens of Owingsville and Bath County as well as Flemingsburg.

Snedegar had a pacemaker and defibrillator surgically implanted approximately five years ago. On Dec. 5 he heard what sounded like a small alarm clock going off... in his chest.

"I heard it just as I was getting ready to go to bed," Snedegar said. After a few quick phone calls and a visit to his cardiologist, emergency surgery was scheduled and performed at St. Joseph Hospital on Dec. 8.

"I was in surgery approximately three hours," Snedegar said. "I have a new pacemaker and it seems to be working fine."

Snedegar was released from the hospital two days later and is scheduled for a follow up check up this week.

"I want to thank everyone who wished me well during my surgery and said a prayer for me," he said. "I have lots of friends in the area and very good co-workers. I miss everyone."

Snedegar was asked if the experience gave him any different insight or perspective. He said since he became a local law enforcement officer, his perspective has changed little, "I take one day at a time and I'm grateful for each morning that I wake up," Snedegar said with an easy laugh.

As a very active sports enthusiast and officer of the law, Snedegar said he hopes to heal quickly.

"I think about my three children every day, my friends and coworkers and I look forward to returning to work as soon as possible."

Thoughts from the Pastor

By: Steve Smith

Even in a terrible economy, millions of dollars will be spent this year, as in years past, for Christmas gifts. Make no mistake about it, we take Christmas gift giving seriously in this country. Some want the biggest, the brightest, the shiniest, the cheapest, the fastest, the newest and the best, whether giving or receiving, but especially receiving.

I've always enjoyed giving and receiving gifts and those we love merit our best effort. Let me appeal to you to remember, as you shop till you drop, and find the gift that is just right: there are gifts that no amount of money can buy. Here are five:

1. A clean conscience. No matter how much money we have to spend, when we look in the mirror we can't escape the person looking back at us and all the thoughts or deeds done or undone. Millions of people spend themselves into oblivion (not just at Christmas) to escape the consequences of an unclean conscience. How much would a person be willing to give to eradicate themselves of a guilty conscience?

2. Peace of Mind. Closely connected to a clean conscience and yet distinctly different is peace of mind. Many people would be willing to pay big bucks to have peace of mind. Many of these people have a clean conscience as far as their choices and behaviors are concerned. Peace of mind is elusive especially for those who WORRY. The dangers of worry are clearly spelled out in the New Testament (Matthew 6 and Luke 12). Peace of mind is elusive for people who derive their fulfillment in life by having to have the unnecessary approval of others. Peace of mind is elusive for those who fail to understand they cannot control other people. Peace of mind is elusive if there is anything standing in the way between a person and the God of Peace. No wonder peace of mind is one of the most sought after gifts.

3. Good Health. Even with the best health insurance coverage in the world, good health cannot be bought. It is a priceless gift. It can also be a fleeting gift. Going to church can't even give good health. Jesus didn't come to give us good health but to make us 'whole.' How many parents would give all they have to give a sick or handicapped child good health. I know I would. (I have an autistic grandson.) Good health is a priceless gift that cannot be bought or sold.

4. Time. Time is the great equalizer of all. In the course of a day, a week, a month, a year or even a decade—all of us who are living have the exact same amount of time. No one reading this has one more second in their day than anyone else. How many times have we lost those we love in death and wished we had just one more moment to tell them we love them, one more moment to see a smile, or one more moment to say the right thing? Time cannot be bought or sold. It is a gift from God.

5. Eternity with God. There are many who have tried to buy it (Simon the Sorcerer-Acts 8) and even today some who wish to sell it. But eternity with God is God's gift to man. John 3:16 "For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life." While it is a gift that cannot be bought or sold, it is a gift that can be shared. Everyone reading this will spend eternity with God or without God. Because God sent a Savior, we have the promise of eternity with God and Christmas celebrates this Savior.

While these five gifts cannot be bought or sold—the Christ Child—we celebrate at Christmas, promises these gifts in abundance and more. Jesus gives us the forgiveness that cleanses our conscience. He came that we may have peace. (John 14:27). Jesus doesn't promise good health but He does promise "wholeness." John 10:10. Jesus encourages us to use our time wisely. He also has a place prepared for all who are prepared to be with him. Heaven is a prepared place for prepared people. John 14:1-3. Shop till you drop and Merry Christmas!

employed by that organization, but, would see what I could do. He said he had some documents where Miss Fleet Allison had corresponded with Congressman Carl Perkins of The ~7m congressional district, requesting information about how to obtain a cannon for display. She had presented the idea to brigadier general Wilbur R. Buntin, Jr. of the KyARNG.

According to her correspondence, he provided information that it would require the assistance of a congressman (non Gender).

Prior to me getting involved in this venture, congressman Perkins had already, in July 1973, requested a cannon from Headquarters, United States Army Armament Command (USAAC), Rock Island, IL (an) their response dated August 2, 1973 was "we have a gun, field artillery, towed, 155mm, m59 (which is referred to as a "155 howitzer"), located at Letterkenny Army Depot, Chambersburg, PA", that is available. Miss Fleet (this was what everyone knew her as) was provided this information in correspondence dated August 7, 1973 from the congressman.

(So from my perspective, the government can react quickly provided the right people are involved).

Apparently Miss Fleet knew the Perkins family because when I corresponded with him, he immediately continued to provide assistance and guidance that pertained to the procurement of items of this nature that are used for display.

On December 18, 1973, I sent a request to the commander Usaac requesting a howitzer, artillery towed, 155 mm, m59. The reply included information how to formally request a Howitzer, along with the form required, and the point $300 was required to demilitarize the gun. I specifically requested a 155 mm howitzer because this was the type of gun that the local National Guard unit used to train with in the 1950s to mid 1960s. I felt more individuals in the community would be familiar with this type of gun, especially veterans and other military personnel.

It wasn't until I received this information that I realized we needed money to accomplish this endeavor. I estimated this could be done with an amount of $500. So a letter of request was sent to the Nicholas County fiscal court, the Carlisle city council, the American Legion post # 17, and the Veterans of foreign war (VFW) Post #8666 requesting $125 from each of them. Each organization responded favorably. A request was submitted on February 8, 1974 to commander, USAAC only to receive reply that the gun that previously had been designated for us was sent to someone else because we had not met the requirement of a 30-day response time. The reply also informed me that a second howitzer, smaller in size had been made available in October 1973, but, a request had not been submitted.

It was now time to re-group, re-think and determine how to overcome this obstacle. So on August 28w, 1974 it was decided that time had arrived to again correspond with congressman Perkins. A summary of events from July 15th, 1973 was prepared, along with a request for assistance. The Congressman's response was favorable.

Correspondence from headquarters, United States army Armament command was received in October 1974 stating the request made in February had placed us on a waiting list. However, a howitzer, heavy, towed 8 inch, ml 15 had just become available at Letterkenny Army Depot located in Chambersburg, PA. The term 8 inch refers to the diameter of the barrel of the howitzer.

We were informed a demilitarization fee of $205 was to be prepaid with a money order or cashier's check. That we could do. Also, there was a shipping cost of between $675 and $1,113.60. That we could not do.

Realizing the time requirements, the need for some type transportation and submitting the demilitarization fee, it was time to act fast. A trip was made to the Kentucky army National headquarters in Frankfort to get approval to take a tractor trailer (low-boy) out of state, to borrow a military pickup truck to serve as a trail vehicle on the return trip from letterkenny army depot. We also sought advice and guidance from the transportation office at Boone National Guard center in Frankfort. We received approval of all we requested. (It didn't hurt that brigadier General Wilbur R. Buntin, Jr., deputy adjutant general, was from Carlisle).

With these approvals in hand, letters were sent to the Secretary of transportation, the capitol, Scranton, PA., and the Commissioner of motor vehicles, the capitol Charleston, WV. Requesting conditions that needed to be met by us to haul a Howitzer, using a military tractor and trailer, in their respective states. It was also stated that the gross weight would be 25 ton.

November 5, 1974 Nicholas County Judge Floyd Clark signed the "certificate supporting request for donation". Tills Document and the $205 demilitarization fee was sent to Commander, US Army Armament command.

Also, an "application for special hauling permit" was submitted.

The department of military affairs in Frankfort, KY published military orders without pay for first sergeant Bobby G. Anderson, staff sergeant Harold W. Capps, and Sergeant Henry T. Caswell, members of the local Kyarmg Engineer unit, for the period 18 thru 22 November 1974 to make the trip to pick up the howitzer. The military orders provided documentation for authorization to take the military vehicles out of state. And, also, to possibly provide some liability coverage.

The three of us met behind the courthouse around 5:00 am on the morning of November 19, 1974 and departed immediately thereafter. Our route would take us to 1-75 at Georgetown, then north through Cincinnati to Columbus where we took 1-71 east to 1-70, which is also known as the Pennsylvania turnpike, east to Chambersburg, PA. The trip was in the range of 525 miles, one way.

After driving a while on the turnpike, I noticed rubber flying over the guard rail and down the steep shoulder. I asked Sergeant Caswell what in the world is that? His reply, "recap off one of our tires". I immediately told him to pull over this was our first problem and was compounded because we did not have a Jack to change the tire. There was enough rubber missing from tile tire that it was not safe to be driving the speed required for an interstate highway. So we drove slowly on the shoulder to the next exit, which was about 7 miles. Fortunately for us, there was a service station that graciously loaned us a jack. The spare tire was not much better than the tire we were exchanging, but, it did have rubber all the way around the tire. We arrived in Chambersburg, PA. around 8:00 pm, checked into a motel, then got something to eat, returned to the motel and turned in for the night. It had been a long, long day.

We were up early the next morning so we could arrive at Letterkenny Army Depot about 8:00 or 8:30 am. On the 20th of November we soon located our point-of-contact, who was a Warrant officer at the maintenance facility, because we had several discrepancies with the tractor trailer that needed tending to.

In addition to the problem with the spare tire, there were problems with the turn signals, brake lights, bulbs in some of the lights, etc. The warrant officer instructed an individual to take SSG Capps to get a spare tire. They came back with a new one. I do not know how many individuals checked our truck, but all the discrepancies were soon corrected. They really took care of us.

I told the warrant officer my big concern was how we would get the 110 howitzer onto the trailer. He said that was no problem that they were going to hoist it onto the trailer with a crane and tie it down for us. After all this, I signed for the howitzer and we departed the depot no later than noon. We drove to Washington, PA, found a motel and spent the night. The next day was uneventful until we got to Cincinnati around 8:00 pm. It was a Friday night, with a lot of traffic, and pouring down rain. Luckily, we made it through Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky without incident.

We arrive in Carlisle around 10:30 or 11:00 pm safe and sound, without any accidents or incidents, other than the discrepancies with the tractor trailer. Secured the vehicles in the National Guard compound and went home for the night.

The final step was to construct concrete footers for the gun to set on. So, I contacted Jackie Randolph who was the Supplier for concrete in Carlisle. The dimensions for the footers were determined which would help calculate how much concrete we needed. The amount we needed would cost approximately $125. I told Jackie we only had $51.66. He looked at the tires on the howitzer, which were relatively new. He said he would take the $51.66 and four tires off the howitzer (and put four older ones in place of them) for the cost of the Concrete. I told him, let's do it. Jackie, with the assistance of Phil Mitchell, then put the tires he had bargained for on one of the Nicholas County fire trucks.

The footers were constructed in May of 1975, given a month to Age, then the howitzer was placed in the courthouse yard in June 1975 by the Kentucky army national guard, who also constructed the footers.

Letters of appreciation and gratitude were sent to Congressman Carl Perkins, VFW Post #8666, American Legion Post #17, the City of Carlisle, the Nicholas County fiscal court, and the adjutant general of the Kentucky national guard, naming Brigadier general Wilbur R. Buntin, Jr., lieutenant colonel Ralph L. Palmore, Lieutenant Colonel Billy G. Wellman, Mr. Edwin G. Birdwhistell, and Mr. Frank B. Albers. (This was their Respective rank in 1975) who were the key individuals in the Kyarmg that provided support and assistance.

GENERAL NEWS

Teacher of the Week

This week we have selected Mr. Travis Sims as teacher of the week.

Travis has been teaching Physical Education at NCES for 14 years and is also the head baseball coach for NCHS.

“ I love this job, I enjoy being around the kids and I hope to be here at the elementary school for a while.

I don't know what I would be doing if I was not teaching.

I had a lot of inspiration when i was younger but the most influence probably came from, Greg Letcher, Kay Wills, and Mrs. Canupp.

I love to be able to give back to the kids, and I will do so as long as possible.” said Sims.

Thank You

The family of Teddy Lee Hawkins would like to thank the wonderful friends in Nicholas and surrounding counties that have shown their kindness during the loss of our son, nephew, and cousin. It has been a tragedy that can compare to no other, only God knows 'why'. It has been the wonderful friends and people of the county that have made this bearable. Each and every expression of kindness has been greatly appreciated.

Thank you for the lovely cards, prayers, food, phone calls, visits, flowers and memorials that you have sent. Plans are taking place to put those memorials into a scholarship for a student that plans to pursue 'computer programming which was Teddy Lee's dream.

Thank you to the 'special teachers' (you know who you are) that went the extra mile to make a difference in Teddy Lee's life. You believe strongly in the saying: Behind every successful child is someone who cares. You cared, you showed it and you made him want to come to school in the last months of his life. We will forever be indebted to you for this.

Thank you to the youth that helped so much at the memorial service: Justina Hatfield, Leslie Russell, and Cassie Reynolds. A special thank you to the two young men that spoke at the memorial service, Adan Gancerez Lee Jr. and Nick Fredrick.

Brother Darrell Sexton, your kindness and comforting words will never be forgotten.

Sterling Price who has been a family friend for so many years and helped so much.

We thank you, all of you from the bottom of our hearts and wish you all a joyous and blessed Christmas.

With Love,
Peggy Seithers
Teddy Hawkins
Toni Sue Price and all the families
