Fiscal Court votes send Mathers will to Probate

By Melissa Mitchell

The Nicholas County Fiscal Court voted to send the Mathers will to probate court for a judge to make a ruling on the proper steps and handling of the fund.

After a brief interview, County Judge Executive Kenny Lyons explained to The Mercury about the Fiscal Court's findings with the Mathers Fund.

The Mathers Fund is a program that was established in 1937 from Mr. Mathers who had a will stating that he would like the fund to be handled and distributed out to help the children of Nicholas County.

At the last fiscal court meeting Magistrate Steve Hamilton brought up to the members of the Fiscal Court that the secretaries Dana Price, Wanda Dotson and Reva Fuller were receiving $56.00 more from the Mathers Fund that was not approved by the Fiscal Court years ago. After checking into this matter in depth, the court found by looking at the budget that the court did approve the budget for the increase.

The salary for the handling of the fund is based on the yearly interest rate of the fund.

Mrs. Ruth Hollar was the first person to handle the account and to obtain the salary for handling the account which consisted of taking applications for the fund. Mrs. Imogene Green followed, then the duties went to the secretaries of the Judges Office.

As the fund grew over the years, the duties increased which required more help and more paperwork. Judge Executive Lyons started to dig into the budgets from the previous years and found the following allotments that had been approved by the court. The total amount is divided by 12 months then divided by how many employees that handle the fund.

- budget allotted $1500 - $1800
- May 1985 increase from $1800 - $2400
- April 1986 increase from $2400 - $3600
- June 1989 from $3600 - $5000
- May 1990 increase $5000 - $5400
- May 1995 increase $5400 - $6000
- May 2002-2003 the court voted to give Mrs. Imogene Green $7434 The Judges office

County Fire Department melts away during incendiary fire board meeting

By Melissa Mitchell
Editor
melissa@kynewsgroup.com

A virtual flame-throwing match erupted between firefighters and fire board members during a special called Nicholas County Fire Board meeting April 26.

Before the meeting was over The Nicholas County Fire Department was no longer an active entity.

The meeting was called to order at approximately 7 p.m. with Fire Board Chairman, Jimmy Price, asking Nicholas County Judge Executive Kenny Lyons to speak to the board.

Judge Lyons asked the board members and fire fighters to put their disagreements aside, whether it was personal or business, and find a solution that would be beneficial to the board, firefighters and most of all the county citizens.

Judge Lyons said that he would stand behind them with the decision that they made but wanted to see everyone get along. According to Judge Lyons, the KRS (Kentucky Revised Statutes) states that the fiscal court has no control over a board that is a taxing district, which the Nicholas County Fire Board is.

Members of the audience agreed with Judge Lyons.

"On behalf of the community I think that the board needs to put their differences and personal issues aside and do what is the right thing." Mrs. Shanna Hedges stated. "These firefighters, including my husband, are dedicated to this community and the families within it."

Price asked for a motion to go into closed session, but Board member Ronnie Clark felt that the board didn't need to go into closed session and the meeting resumed to be open to the public for the discussion of the new fire chief.

Price then asked for the board to vote to decide who would be the next Fire Chief.

Board Member Mike "Satch" Smith made a motion for Matt Hughes to be named Firechief, but before a second could be made to Smith's motion, Board Member Al Warner stopped the motion.

"Aren't we going to interview each candidate to see about what qualifications they obtain?" He asked. The board members agreed to allow the interview process.

Warner started the process by asking the first candidate, Doug French, what experience he had as a firefighter that would qualify him for the position of fire chief.

"I have 19 years of experience with 400 certified hours, 7 years as firefighter, captain of Bourbon Co. Fire Dept. and Nicholas County for 10 years," French said. "I do not have any experience as Fire Chief, and no I am not a Training Instructor but was going to place Bill Denton as Asst Chief due to Denton having training certification.

Warner asked the second candidate, Matt Hughes, who is the current interim fire chief, what experience he had.

"I have 28 years of experience with NCFD (Nicholas County Fire Department), 22 as firefighter, EMT, Assistant Chief for 11-12 years, and I am a certified training officer," said Hughes.

Clark asked what training hours some of the other firefighters had, and Hughes went over the different training hours of individual firefighters to let the board no where the members stood with the training.

According to the KRS, there is only 20 hours allowed within a 12 month period. Some of the firefighters had accumulated total of 150 hours of training over a number of years.

Trouble began when French showed the board members documentation of where someone had allegedly went into the State Fire website to remove the names of firefighters and alter the number of hours of training the firefighters had, and who among them were active firefighters.

Clark asked Jeremy Hughes, who routinely keeps the fire log information, if he had removed them, but Hughes declined to respond.

Several firefighters then asked how French was able to obtain some of the documentation that was brought forth to the board. French responded by saying that he was under the direction of Chairman Jimmy Price to check the site for the documentation.

After questioning the fire chief candidates and having a brief discussion about the removal of the firefighters from the website, a motion was made by Ronnie Clark for Doug French to be Fire Chief with a second by Doug McCord. There was a 3-2 vote by board members in favor of French being named Nicholas County Fire Chief.

Immediately after the vote, approximately 12 firefighters dropped resignation letters onto the table in front of French and other board members. With those resignations the community lost over 275 years of firefighting experience. Several firefighters stated their opinion and walked to get their fire equipment gear, radios, and keys, to turn into the board.

Audience members questioned the board about what was going to happen to the county if a fire or wreck was to happen.

"Who will respond to help us in a time of need?" was one question asked throughout the night.
"I can only say one thing. The firefighters were not here for the community by resigning." Doug McCord said,
Some of the firefighters stated that when going into a burning home, or responding to a wreck

Fiscal Court appoints new Fire Board members

An emergency called Fiscal Court meeting was held this past Friday morning to address the Fire Board meeting that took place the previous night resulting in the firefighters and board member resigning and leaving the county with no county fire department.

Judge Executive Kenny Lyons called the meeting to order with all magistrates present, firefighters and county citizens in attendance to name the new members for the Fire Board.

County Attorney Dawn Letcher explained the KRS statues governing the Fire Board.

Letcher said, "The KRS Statues and the bylaws of the Fire Board indicate that it is the County Judge's job to fill the vacancy with the court's approval."

County Attorney Letcher said that court members had to determine what vacancies were available and which seats are county elected and which are named by the Fire Department, before they can serve on the board for the balance of the terms.

The County Attorney and Judge met the previous evening and declared a state of emergency for the county and signed a mutual aid agreement with the City so the county was not left without fire coverage.

Jeremy Rogers, State Fire Commissioner addressed the court concerning the issue of the resignations and the legalities of the court's decisions. According to the KRS the fiscal court can fill the vacancies of the board members for the remainder of the term.

"The Judge did assure us that he spoke with the Mayor to assure that the county had fire protection," stated Jeremy Rogers.

"I spoke with the Fire Attorney this morning about the board, and the judge does have authority to appoint board members so that you can have a fire department to fill the vacancies and the remainder terms." Rogers added.

The court met that morning only to appoint Fire board members.

Judge Executive Kenneth Lyons and members of the Fiscal Court held an emergency meeting last Friday morning to recreate the Nicholas County Fire Board following their resignations the previous evening.

The fiscal court does not have any other authority other than setting up the board again by appointing members to that board.

The court had three vacancies to fill for the remainder of the terms, those left by Jimmy Price, Arnold Payne, and Mike Smith who had resigned at the Thursday nights fireboard meeting. Jimmy Price was a board elected appointment, Arnold Payne was citizen elected whose term is up in June, and

THE MOCKINGBIRD EPIPHANY

Heaven Is A Lot Like Kentucky

By Charles Mattox

As I'm drawn deeper and deeper into my studies of local Native American history and culture, a common thread connects it all: nature.

The ability of our different Kentucky Native Americans to maximize the use of the natural resources they found here throughout the centuries continues to amaze me.

I spent a little time with some friends over the weekend hunting some plowed fields for Native American artifacts, after obtaining permission from the landowners.

I was rewarded with a researchers' epiphany in return.

Archaeological evidence tells us that about 1,000 years ago, a group of Native American people who lived in Kentucky, and who had done so for the previous 1,000 years, began to disappear.

These people were called the Woodland People.

They lived in small circular huts and lived in small villages consisting of three to seven of those huts arranged in a small circle.

For generation after generation they made their projectile points in a similar fashion, most easily described as "Christmas Tree" shape.

The projectiles had a stem, where the arrow was connected to a shaft.

Most scholars agree that Woodland People did not have technology such as the bow and arrow, but used an 'atlatl' or spear-thrower, to hurl their stone projectiles at their targets.

Woodland people were the first to use pottery in Kentucky and were the first group of people to expand on farming and domestication of plants and animals on a larger scale than their predecessors had in the centuries before them.

But like I said, 1,000 years ago they simply vanished.

No more straight stemmed projectiles.

Instead, on the sites we start to find 'pentagonal' shaped projectiles-but these are very rare and only occur at the end of the Woodland era.

Immediately following this we see Triangular-shaped projectiles and these are characteristic of the Fort Ancient Culture of Native Americans-who lived in Kentucky and southern States before the historic tribes did. Fort Ancient people would live here for about 600 years, before similarly vanishing, like their predecessors did before them.

Archaeologists agree that Fort Ancient people had acquired advanced technology and were using the bow and arrow on a large scale.

On Friday, my friends and I discovered two projectile points that appear to be a transitional phase of projectile between pentagonal and triangular projectiles.

We found them located side-by-side.

We had only found one similar point like these in 38 years of intense searching.

The first one we found in Bath County.

The last two we found in Mason County.

At the Mason County site we enjoyed a beautiful day in a field where we have spent countless hours examining the land where a large Woodland village, and later a Fort Ancient village site once stood.

As we were relaxing on the ground, at the spot where the two projectiles were found, a mockingbird landed nearby and began singing to us.

This happened immediately after the first projectile was found and continued on until well after the second projectile was found.

There were three of us and we all noticed the mockingbird.

It sang a variety of melodies to us-I have never heard a bird sing so loud for so long.

In the brief lull that followed, my friend turned to the bird and said "Is that all? Did you run out of songs?"

And immediately the bird launched into an extended chorus of complex melodies that, frankly, left us all baffled and silent.

A second lull brought forth comments of "You've got to be kidding me," to which the mockingbird immediately answered with yet, more complex whistles and complete extended melodies.

It was the most-beautiful bird song I have ever heard.

This entire time I had my back to the bird and my friend asked me to "do something" so I turned and let my gaze settle on the mockingbird, which was perched about 30 yards away.

We looked at one another for 20 full seconds of complete quiet and then the bird gave one last whistle and flew away.

We were left to examine the two projectiles in silence.

They were identical and all three of us noted they must have been chipped by the same craftsman.

The flint the craftsman used was of a local variety.

Another piece of the puzzle was falling into place.

For a brief period of time 1,000 years ago, Kentuckians stopped using the spear thrower and began using the bow and arrow.

At this exact same time, they began intensive farming and expanded on their corn fields.

They changed the way they made pottery, using broken mussel shells for tempering the clay instead of burnt limestone as Woodland People had.

Their culture underwent a complete transformation.

And for a moment, Friday afternoon, under the magical spell of the mockingbird, I was there.

Right there with them.

And it was a good place to be.

I'll be going back there frequently if the Good Lord is willing.

TRIANGLE NEWS HEADQUARTERS ~ SALTWELL ~ BARTERVILLE

Get Well wishes and prayers go up for Phyllis Gaunce, Sue Rule and Gladys Shrout. Hope you all are better soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doyle dined at Cracker Barrel in Georgetown on Saturday night for their 51st wedding anniversary.

Phyllis Brady enjoyed Sunday school and the Worship Service Sunday at the Cynthiana First United Methodist Church. She wanted to hear guest speaker Dr. Larry Nichols, an approved full time KY conference evangelist from Somerset. He'd held revival at Carlisle Methodist Church a few years ago and Ruggles Camp, etc. He brought an outstanding message.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitson, Mt. Carmel Rd., and David spent last weekend at London and Corbin for David to participate in bowling tournaments from his school.

A very large crowd attended a dinner Sunday at the Carlisle Christian Church honoring Rev. Steve Smith Jenny Smith. Also from 2pm to 4pm a very nice reception was held for them. They had a beautiful cake and were presented a plaque for 25 years of service to the church and community. Decorations were in pastel colors. The planning and work was done by the "Sonshine Sisters". A good crowd attended for this special couple.

The County Cluster Meeting of the United Methodist Women was held at the Saltwell United Methodist Church on Thursday night. Supper was served first then a wonderful speaker; Nannette Feeback from Tennessee brought an interesting and enthusiastic talk about her missions' trips. She has been to 14 different countries. There was also a question and answer time. She also gave several door prizes from places she'd been as well as Saltwell giving door prizes of flowers.

Matt and Sarah Jarvis, Molly Smith and Joyce Smith went by plane to New York a few days last week on vacation and enjoyed many places of interest.

Martha Sue Taylor, Phyllis Brady and a few others from Nicholas County very much enjoyed the HarriCyn Community Theatre's production, "Lost in Yonkers" at Roh's Opera House, Cynthiana, on Friday night. It was performed 4 times.

Rev. Vernon and Sue Adams, Don Adams, Phyllis Brady enjoyed a gospel singing on Sunday night at the Paris Church of the Nazarene. The group "Ol Cane Springs Bluegrass Gospel" was from around Waco, KY. They were 5 men with 5 different instruments. A sandwich, salads, and desserts supper was also served and a decorated cake for those who had birthdays or anniversaries in April.

Thoughts from the Pastor Study

Creating a Healthier Church

In his book, Creating a Healthier Church, Ronald W. Richardson uncovers the toxic issues that hinder church communities, and prevent them from growing. He takes a close look inside, sharing strategies that prevent a church body from becoming vulnerable to collective emotional instability. Richardson's candid treatment of the individual needs of church members, and what can cause them to feel connected and accepted, or isolated and not needed by the church family, is a crucial piece for any church in creating a healthy culture and trusting dynamics that effectively serve.

Richardson tells the story of two churches—one is healthy and the other is sick. He paints a contrasting picture of how the two organizations would handle a Sunday morning heating/cooling crisis. The healthy church has mature leadership that draws on an inner commitment to the larger vision—that of working together and making sure the church can have its services as scheduled, and meet the needs of the congregation. The toxic church, when faced with the same crisis, falls apart—as individual members blame each other, voice resentments, and somehow miss the whole point of being a Christian organization that exists to serve the needs of others.

Richardson's focus on healthy relationship, respect for individual uniqueness, and the space that is needed so everyone can work side by side in a healthy culture of trust and acceptance cannot be overstated. In any organization, the culture is key. And for any person, being accepted and appreciated is key. Richardson points to the danger signs of anxiety, abandonment, isolation, and relationship triangles as indicators of a toxic culture. He distinguishes the need for both togetherness and individuality, and draws a parallel between a church family and family systems theory—illustrating how a church can function like a 'mobile'...fluid, flexible, with the ability to move freely as needed. In a healthy church, there is room for everyone to breathe as the task of advancing the cause of Christ to the world remains front and center—not personal agendas, the whims of church "bosses", or factional politics.

Too often, the local church is seen by the larger community as a dysfunctional group of zealots in crisis. And too often, lives have been hurt unnecessarily, and church families broken apart, because of the inability to understand the basic human need to be a part of a healthy group. We, as church leaders, must work harder to protect the integrity of the church. And this begins with unwavering commitment to healthy dynamics, healthy organizational growth, healthy embracing of the Christ model...a model that was not about oppression and control, but about setting the captives free.

BREAD OF LIFE

Ephesians 4:17-19 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles in the vanity of their mind 18 having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart. 19 Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness. There is a subtle strategy that Satan uses to take control of our lives. We must learn how to be obedient to Christ, Jesus and resist the Devil and put him under our feet. The Bible calls this strategy Lasciviousness begins with just a few seemingly innocent thoughts. Then those thoughts grow and grow until they begin to produce serious sin, for example, a person who usually restrains himself from cursing, might say a curse word and if he lets that word go by then another one comes easy, until you let go of all restraint and then something evil moves into that person. The Bible says to resist the devil and he will flee from you. If we don't resist the devil, he will take up residence and the law of sin and death is set in motion. As a result, flesh gradually becomes ruler over that person's entire being. Don't let Satan use the strategy of Lasciviousness on you. It might be something small at first. That is how Satan tricks people. Make up your mind and heart today to obey God in the little things. Walk in his Spirit and major victories will be yours. Ephesians 4: 22-32 That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts 23 And be renewed in the spirit of your mind 24 and that ye put on the new man which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. 25 Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor; for we are members one of another. 26 Be ye angry and sin not let not the sun go down upon your wrath 27 Neither give place to the devil; 28 let him that stole steal no more; but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. 29 Let not corrupt communications proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers. 30 And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption 31 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger and clamour and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice. 32 And be ye kind one to another, tender hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Listen to the Holy Spirit council you and teach you how to live in this present world. If you listen to the voice of the world you will be worldly minded or carnally minded which is death. But if you tune into the voice of the Spirit you can become spiritually minded and according to the word that is life and peace. So when that still small voice speaks to you inside your heart, that is the spirit of God, so listen and obey Him. Then you will walk in the Blessings of God.

Thought for the day: There is no little sin in God's eyes. Sin is sin and no sin is going to enter Heaven.

ELECT DEBORAH "DEBBIE" FRYMAN FOR NICHOLAS COUNTY CLERK

My name is Debbie Fryman. I have lived in Nicholas County all my life. I am married to Roy Fryman; we live at Clark Hills near Millersburg. We have four children Steven (Danielle) Minton, Joshua (Kim) Minton, Tracy (Ronnie) Blakeman, Tina (Rob) Caswell and five grandchildren; Avery Ann, Bobby, Katie, Sadie and Shelby. My parents are Patsy Ritchie Smith and the late Charles "Chuck" Smith.

I attended Maysville Community College, where I studied in their business program. I started my business career with the Commonwealth of Kentucky in March of 1999 as an Account I and later as Business Manager. Among my responsibilities were payroll & personnel clerk, preparing daily receipts, monthly reports, serving as a technical liaison with Frankfort, among many other duties pertaining to a resort park business operation.

Therefore, I am aware of the importance of proper record keeping, filing timely reports and following policies and procedures implemented by the State of Kentucky.

Also, during my 8-1/2 years with the state I trained in Customer Service, Technology, Cultural Diversity, Personnel, among other various training classes required by my employment.

Later I held the positions of Volunteer Coordinator and Giftshop Manager at our local hospital where I directed and coordinated all volunteer services and managed day-to-day operations of the gift shop. Maintaining files and records, preparing reports were just part of my responsibilities. I had continuous training in Customer Service, Technology and other re-orientation courses.

Currently I am employed as an Administrative Assistant at one of our local banks I also serve as a Customer Service Representative. Data entry, filing securities with the Secretary of State and Teller are just a few of my many duties.

From the time my children were little I have been actively involved in our school, community and church. Today, I serve on the Nicholas County Senior Citizens Advisory Council, Nicholas County Tourism, and for the past couple of years I have been a T-Ball coach.

Running for political office has been something that I have always wanted to do.

You see my dad was a great role model, an inspiration; he loved and served this community well. I too love this little town and I can't wait make a difference.

If I am elected as your Nicholas County Clerk I will consider extending office hours one evening a week and possibly open the office one or two Saturday's a month. I will review all possibilities in order to assist working individuals. Hours will depend on budgetary constraints.

I would like to ask for your vote and support on Tuesday, May 22, 2012; I look forward serving the people of Nicholas County. I have always taken pride in every job that I have had and I will take pride in being the next county clerk. I will be courteous and treat everyone with respect and you can count on a friendly smile too!

Sincerely,
Debbie Fryman

Clarification

It was reported in the April 11 edition of the Carlisle Mercury that a two vehicle accident that occurred on Monday, April 9, was caused by Teddy R. Lowe crossing the center line in his truck on Concrete Rd. and being sideswiped by a car driven by Estill Hunt. This was incorrect. According to the Kentucky State Police accident report, Mr. Hunt's car crossed the centerline and struck Mr. Lowe's truck. We apologize for this error.

Minor League Parade & Opening Day

By: Eric Tolson

The Nicholas County Minor League Baseball season began Saturday on a chilly April morning. Every year, many boys and girls, from ages 5 to 8, play against each other in a friendly competition of wits and athleticism. A great form of exercise and discipline, baseball has storied traditions among many Americans, and can teach early on the importance of teamwork and sportsmanship.

Lemons leads on the green at Asbury in April

Zach Lemons, Asbury University Sophomore, received honors in April for his performance on the green.

Lemons was named KIAC Men's Golfer of the Week on Monday, April 16, following a 4th place finish at the Asbury Spring Invitational on April 9 and 10 at the Connemara Golf Course. Lemons shot a two day total of 156 at the par 71 course, including a 75 in round one and an 81 in round two.

He was also named KIAC Men's Golfer of the Week for the following week after Asbury University won the Cincinnati Christian Invitational. Lemons helped the Asbury Eagles with his third place finish and his 77 in round one and 83 in round two on the par 72 course.

Asbury took second place at the KIAC Championships at the Stonecrest Golf Course in Prestonsburg. Lemons finished third overall, a single stroke behind co-leaders Cincinnati Christian's Jordan Leisinger and Brescia's Haydon Young. Lemons also held the 18-hole lead after an even par 72.

Lemons was voted by his peers as Asbury's Golfer of the Year.

Baseball Jackets held scoreless versus Bourbon

CARLISLE - Following an impressive 7-3 victory over Mason County one day earlier, Nicholas County slipped back into the loss column on Tuesday (April 24). Visiting Bourbon County defeated the Jackets 3-0 in the non-district high school baseball game that matched up the two longtime foes.

Nicholas County sophomore pitcher Jacob Wiggins suffered the loss. Wiggins pitched well but lacked offensive support from the Nicholas County lineup.

"Jacob (Wiggins) pitched a nice game, there was just no run support," Nicholas County Coach Travis Sims commented.

The Jackets struggled at the plate against a Bourbon County team that featured stout pitching and made the most of a solid defensive effort.

With the win, Bourbon County, which is ranked second behind Harrison County in the 10th Region standings, improved to 13-1.

The Jackets dropped to 6-11-1 after absorbing the loss.

Nicholas County absorbed its sixth shutout loss of the season. The Jackets faced Bourbon County for the second time in the 2012 season, Bourbon County edged the Jackets 1-0 when the two high school baseball squads met in an early-season matchup on March 22.

The Jackets are not slated to play Bourbon County again this season.

Lady Jackets drop road game to district rival Harrison

CYNTHIANA - The Nicholas County High School softball team suffered its first loss of the season on Tuesday (April 24), falling to 38th District rival Harrison County. The Lady Breds pounded out 19 hits en route to a 12-4 victory over the visiting Lady Jackets.

Nicholas County, however, led early and made the game much closer than the final score would indicate.

Nicholas County took a 2-0 lead in the first inning as Megan Bretz walked to open the game. Two outs later, McKenzie Hopkins hit a double to score Bretz. Emily Curran followed with an RBI single as the Lady Jackets pushed out to a 2-0 lead.

The score remained the same until the fourth inning when Harrison County scored five runs with two outs to take a 6-2 lead.

But the Lady Jackets wouldn't go away. Nicholas County chipped away, scoring a run in the fifth inning with hits from Reesa Martin, Hopkins and Shelby Wade. Again in the sixth inning, Nicholas County stranded the bases loaded, just as it had in the fifth. Nicholas County managed only one run in the sixth inning as Curran connected for an RBI single.

Harrison capitalized in the sixth inning, scoring four runs with two outs, ultimately setting the final score at 12-4.

"This was a close game, not like the score indicates," said Nicholas County Coach Barry Bretz. "We had chances to add to the lead early and didn't. In the fifth and sixth innings, we had the bases loaded and couldn't get a key hit. I told the girls to keep their heads up because there is a lot of ball left to play. We accomplished something special in our run, Nicholas was the last unbeaten team left in the state in 2012 no one can ever take that away."

Nicholas County is scheduled to host Harrison County on May 3.

Nicholas High juniors accepted at Governor's Scholars

Finn Brutsmann and Austin Allison, Nicholas County High School juniors, have both been chosen to attend this summer's Governor's Scholars Program.

Two Nicholas County High School juniors have been selected for this summer's prestigious Governor's Scholars Program.

Austin Allison, 17, and Finn Brutsmann, 16, have both been selected to be among more than 1000 students from around the Commonwealth to attend the five week summer program. Governor's Scholars was established in 1983 and aims at preparing its attendees for personal and academic excellence and for residential life in college. Many attendees are the first of their families who have plans to attend college.

Over 1900 students apply each year to attend the program, while just over 1000 are chosen.

College and university campuses that host the Governor's Scholars Program are chosen competitively every three years. This year Centre College in Danville, Bellarmine University in Louisville, and Murray State University in Murray are the host schools.

Basic requirements for being nominated for Governor's Scholars include being in 11th grade, being a Kentucky resident, and having taken the ACT, SAT, or PSAT tests. Nominees also have to demonstrate a high grade point average, leadership, and intellectual and emotional maturity.

Nominees are assigned to the college they are to attend and are assigned a roommate for the duration of their stay at the school.

The program helps to create university atmosphere for its attendees, where students take college-like courses and are responsible for their own work. At the same time, they are exposed to a wide variety of cultural and educational activities in addition to extracurricular activities.

Austin, son of Barbara and Todd Allison, said that he hopes that the summer program will help with him with his career plans. "I'd like to figure out what I want to do after graduation," Allison said. "Something in agriculture or engineering." He said he would like to attend Centre College for the program.

Austin has played three sports, football, basketball, and baseball, and is a member of the National Honor Society. He also attended a veterinarian program at the Kentucky State University two years ago.

Finn, son of Joe and Shannon Brutsmann, said, "It's already benefited me. I've met many people in program through Twitter." Finn said that he would like to focus on engineering while in the program. "I like math, and I like to have something to do with my hands," he said.

Finn said that he has taken as many AP (advanced placement) classes as possible this year and has been involved in a number of extracurricular activities, including sports.

The Mercury staff wish Austin and Finn the best of luck with GSP this summer.

Insurance is very important for everyone. For those who have it, it provides peace of mind and creates a sense of security within oneself. Simply knowing that you or your family is taken care of should something happen is a very pleasant feeling. For the last 12 years, Bill Clark's Shelter Insurance has helped many citizens within our community plan for life changes or plan for unexpected events. Shelter Insurance was opened in 2000, with owner Bill Clark, and has been providing many people with auto insurance, home insurance and many other types of protection. Mr. Clark and his son Trae work hard to provide many people with the protection they need or the peace of mind they desire.

Bill Clark and his lovely wife Cathy, parents to five sons, will celebrate their 26th anniversary on May 30. An avid fan of the University of Kentucky Wildcats Basketball team, Mr. Clark enjoys watching all of the games on television and loves watching them live when he is able.

Mr. Clark's favorite part of selling insurance is talking and meeting with people.

Bill Clark's Shelter Insurance is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. from Monday through Friday and 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Saturdays.

INSPECTION PERIOD FOR THE ROBERTSON COUNTY PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENT ROLL

The Robertson County real property tax roll will be opened for inspection from May 7 through May 21, 2012. Under the supervision of the property valuation administrator or her deputy, any person may inspect the tax roll.

This is the January 1, 2012, assessment on which state, county, library, extension, soil conservation, health, and school taxes for 2012 will be due on or about October 1, 2012.

The tax roll is in the office of the property valuation administrator in the county courthouse annex and may be inspected between the hours of 9:00am and 4:00pm Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and 9:00am till noon on Wednesday and Saturday.

Any taxpayer desiring to appeal an assessment on real property made by the PVA must first request a conference with the PVA. The conference may be held prior to or during the inspection period.

Any taxpayer still aggrieved by an assessment on real property after the conference with the PVA may appeal to the county board of assessment appeals.

The taxpayer can appeal his assessment by filing in person or sending a letter or other written petition stating the reasons for appeal, identifying the property and stating the taxpayer's opinion of the fair cash value of the property.

The appeal must be filed with the county clerk's office no later than one work day following conclusion of the inspection period.

A taxpayer failing to appeal to the county board of assessment appeals, or failing to appear before the board, either in person or by designated representative, will not be eligible to appeal directly to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.

Appeals of personal property assessments shall not be made to the county board of assessment appeals. Personal property taxpayers shall be served notice under the provisions of KRS 132.450(4) and shall have the protest and appeal rights granted under the provisions of KRS 131.110.

The following steps should be taken when a taxpayer does not agree with the assessed value of personal property as determined by the property valuation administrator.

- 1) He must list under protest (for certification) what he believes to be the fair cash value of his property.
- 2) He must file a written protest directly with the Department of Revenue, Office of Property Valuation within 30 days from the date of the notice of assessment.
- 3) This protest must be in accordance with KRS 131.110.
- 4) The final decision of the Department of Revenue may be appealed to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.

4-H Teen Council Meets to Make Request to Local Bank

By Eric Tolson
KYNewsGroup
eric@kynewsgroup.com

A 4-H Teen Council Meeting was held last Wednesday for members of the 4-H Club and parents. After a pledge by Club President Adam Tubbs, the meeting was called to order.

One of the issues most prominently discussed was the request for the 4-H Club to have a personal debit card. The card would be used to purchase various items for use by the 4-H Club. The need for a debit card arose when it was announced that the club would no longer be permitted to have reimbursement of funds back to the extension office. Although the need for a debit card is quite evident, the 4-H Club is currently awaiting approval from a local bank.

Also discussed at the meeting was an issue regarding the need for ice for the 4-H Club during the upcoming Nicholas County Fair. The council addressed a concern regarding whether or not to purchase their own ice machine or to take donations of ice from the local businesses. The council determined that, while the purchase of an ice machine could be very cost efficient in the long run, the long term need for an ice machine didn't outweigh the financial burden that it would currently cause. Most importantly, the council wished to recognize Kim Foster, a long-time employee at the extension office, who was very involved in 4-H related activities. Although Fosters last day at the extension office was April 30, President Adam Tubbs presented her with an award for her years of service on April 25th because this would be the last meeting of the 4-H Council before her departure.

There were several other issues discussed during the meeting. These include:

The upcoming 4-H Club Lock-In was discussed briefly. Due to the event, few teens will be attending the upcoming 4-H Teen Conference due to an overlapping scheduling conflict.

Mention was also made regarding the scholarship committee. Importance was placed on having the scholarship applications completed by May 2.

It was announced that the Kentucky based ALE-8 company has chosen to donate 2 cases of their beverages to the 4-H Club for use of it in the Nicholas County Fair.

It was also announced that Day Camps for the 4-H Club will be held on June 13, 20 and 27; July 18 and 25; and possibly August 1. The camp will take place from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day. The camp requires all children attending to pay a $10 registration for one child and $5 for each additional child.

The meeting was dismissed by President Adam Tubbs. It was announced that the next meeting of the 4-H Council will take place on May 30 at 6 p.m.

Human remains found near Blue Licks Triangle

By Charles Mattox
News Editor
charles@kynewsgroup.com

Will the discovery of a human skull and other bones in extreme western Fleming County be connected in any way to the unsolved Blue Licks Triangle murders of Donnie Dixon, David Sadler and Roger Scotty Fulton?

"We're not ruling anything out right now," several law enforcement officers said from the recovery scene Monday.

The newest "homicide investigation" in the area began April 27 with the discovery of a human skull.

"It kind of freaked me out when I first saw it," Greg Myers of Delaney Road, in extreme western Fleming County said over the weekend regarding his discovery. "I thought when I saw the rounded top of it that maybe it was a kid's basketball or something, but then I saw all of it and I knew it was a human skull."

Myers, who has lived on the property for 12 years, found the skull Friday afternoon April 27 as he was cleaning out the front area of a culvert that diverts water from a tributary of Buchanan Creek beneath Delaney Road.

Myers contacted Fleming County Deputy Sheriff Gary Kinder upon his discovery and Kinder immediately contacted Kentucky State Police and Fleming County Sheriff Scotty Roysse.

Investigators quickly converged on the scene and recovered the upper portion of a human skull. The skull did not include a lower jaw but was in otherwise 'intact' condition.

"We're treating this like a homicide at this point until we have more conclusive evidence," Sheriff Roysse said Monday. "At this time we have no documented missing persons connected to Fleming County."

Roysse is assisting Kentucky State Police Detective Wes Prather, who is leading the investigation. Det. Prather was joined at the scene by Det. Sgt. Rob Prather and KSP Troopers Chad Bowling and Blake Tribby, among others.

A search of the tributary of Buchanan Creek was initiated with some additional bones being recovered, but investigators believe these bones are non-human and may have been from a deer carcass.

The skull was taken to Frankfort at the Kentucky Medical Examiner's Office, where Dr. Victoria Graham, and retired forensic anthropologist, Dr. Emily Craig, continue to analyze the skull and assist with the investigation.

"I can't discuss anything regarding an ongoing investigation," Dr. Craig said Monday morning.

Others are also remaining cautiously tight-lipped.

"We're not ruling out anything right now," Det. Prather said, though he refrained from comments about specifics of the investigation.

Prather joined Sheriff Roysse and five other law enforcement officers on the scene Monday afternoon to search the ravine with the aid of six cadaver dog teams from northern Kentucky.

Additional skeletal remains were found Monday.

"This is a crime scene," one of the investigators said when asked.

Others asked about the close proximity to the unsolved Blue Licks Triangle murders of Donnie Dixon (Oct. 1999) David Sadler (March 2003 and Roger Scotty Fulton (body found Feb. 2004).

Dixon, Sadler and Fulton all knew one another very well and all lived and were either murdered in or their body recovered in a very small area known in law enforcement and local media circles as The Blue Licks Triangle.

"That was pretty close to here as the crow flies," Sheriff Roysse said to one of the investigators Monday. "I know," the other investigator replied. "Real close."

Investigators are also looking in to the possibility of the skull having washed from any historic cemetery, which may be located upstream from the recovery site, though sources on the scene said the current thought was that the skull belonged to a living person within the last five years.

Anyone with any information relevant to the investigation is urged to contact Kentucky State Police at 606-784-4127 or the Fleming County Sheriff's Office at 845-4701.

scene that they needed to have people there they could trust, and they didn't feel that they had that now.

"There is faulty equipment that we have, but we still remained to do our job and help the community. New equipment was supposed to have been ordered two months ago but has yet to be delivered." Veteran firefighter, Mike Warner said. "My fire suit is outdated but I used it any way."

McCord replied that he "thought it had already been ordered."

Tension also rose among those in the audience.

"The firefighters are the ones that put their lives in danger to enter those homes, the board members were not, and the board should listen to the firefighters," Nancy Warner said.

Other citizens expressed their concern to the board members on what they were to do if they had a wreck and was trapped in their vehicle or their home caught fire and trapped them or a family member, but they received no answer of any substance.

Once the resignations were placed, the firefighters turned to the board and asked them to do the right thing for the community and resign so the problem will be resolved and the court could appoint new members.

Matt Hughes and other firefighters asked Judge Lyons if the fiscal court would ask for the resignations of the board and start with a newly formed board and told Judge Lyons that if he did that each of the firefighters would pull their resignation and would continue under the guidance of the court to remain as firefighters.

"I can't do that with it being a taxing district according to the KRS, but if the board members wanted to resign on their own the court would accept their resignation and would appoint new members." Lyons replied.

French was the first to step up and resign from the board, followed by Mike Smith, Arnold Payne, Al Warner and Jimmy Price.

Ronnie Clark and Doug McCord refused to resign.

Firefighters expressed that there had been illegal meetings going on without proper notification to the newspapers, and not notifying the firefighters or some of the board members until minutes before the meeting.

KRS states that a special called meeting is required by law that the newspaper of legal record (The Carlisle Mercury) and members are to be notified 24 hours in advance with an agenda of the called meeting.

There was also mention of how the past meetings were held regarding the payment of bills.

Ronnie Clark repeated numerous times that the fire board should be ran like a business. There should be an inventory list of the entire equipment that the department has. He stated that it was wrong for things to be pushed under the rug and that everything should be ran like a business and paid in that manner.

The firefighters didn't have an issue with the fire department being ran like a business, but several firefighters felt that they had been "done wrong" by not being asked their opinion of who they felt was the best qualified fire chief, and that some members of the fire board would not listen to their concerns.

"We have to forget about the past, and move forward and fix things that are wrong," answered Clark

Minutes after the resignations Mike "Satch" Smith stated that he wanted to be sure that the community knew that a letter would be published in both Nicholas County newspapers expressing their sincere apologies.

"We have always been here when the tones were dropped, but felt they couldn't continue with the way things were and with the board members refusing to listen to them and value their opinions"

Others also spoke. "This department is like family to me, I have responded to several calls within this county along with the other firefighters." Matt Hughes stated.

Numerous firefighters became emotional when expressing their feelings about the fire department, as did their spouses and other family members who expressed to the remaining two board members how it was scary for their loved one to go out on a call and to worry about their safety but felt good that they were able to go out and help the people in need.

Judge Lyons returned to the meeting stating that he and County Attorney Dawn Letcher were going to meet at the court house Thursday night to contact the state's legal authorities to get advice on what the fiscal court could do.

Tones were dropped for the Carlisle City Fire Department to have a meeting and to be on alert if tones were dropped for the county.

Once Judge Lyons and Letcher met and declared a county emergency, a mutual aid agreement was drawn up and agreed on and signed by Mayor Kevin Booth, and City Fire Chief Jim Biddle to cover the county of any calls that came in until the issue was resolved and the county had a stable and established Fire Board and Fire Dept.

An emergency meeting of the fiscal court was called for last Friday at 10:30 a.m., to appoint new members to the board.

out interruption and that others could hear them. "Even on the DVD [of the meeting], I couldn't understand what was being said," Lyons said.

Tim Fegan, representative from the Buffalo Trace Regional Narcotics Task Force, was present to address any questions from court members before they approved the interlocal agreement with the task force.

Attorney Letcher said, "My only concern would be that I would not want any undercover operation taking place without my sheriff knowing about it."

Sheriff Jeff Sidles said that there was an incident 6-7 years ago that "left a bad taste," but that he otherwise was no problem with the drug task force.

Fegan said that the package of marijuana most recently seized by the task force that was bound for Nicholas County was but one of many that are sent to the county.

Magistrate Hamilton asked if Carlisle Mayor Kevin Booth was "still on board" with working with the drug task force. Fegan replied that he had spoken with him, and Booth told him that he wanted to do some research on his own, but did not commit one way or the other to joining the agreement.

Sheriff Sidles said that for the $2500 that the drug task force was asking for, it was worth the money, especially for the drug buy money, overtime, and manpower required to do drug operations.

Fegan said, "This [task force] was put together with small towns in mind." He said that the fee for participating in the drug task force has not changed in 22 years. He added that sometimes the task force is able to use drug forfeiture money to purchase vehicles for local police departments.

Fegan added that for pill dealers "over here, it's pretty much an open gate for them."

The agreement was unanimously approved by the court members.

Other business before Fiscal Court members included: - A reading of the Quarterly report. Magistrate Hamilton asked if it was possible for a monthly statement to be made available for magistrates. Dana Price said that she was not sure. The report itself was unanimously approved

took it over after Fiscal Budget year of 2003

• May 2003 $7350 was allotted when the Judges office took over the fun.

• July 1, 2007-2008 increase $9222

The July 1 2007 budget was where the $56.00 increased raise came into play and was approved by the previous administration of Larry Tinch. There are no minutes in regards to this stating that the members of the fiscal court made a motion or a second to give the increased raise apart from a verbal between Judge Tinch and the secretaries, according to the secretaries. The members of the court did, however, approve the budget that had the increase allotted salary of $9222 that totals out to be $256 a month, where it remains today.

"The present Fiscal Court members voted in the last meeting to send the Mathers Fund will to probate court to determine the provisions of the will," said Judge Lyons.

"Duties for handling the fund consist of doing monthly reports of the bank statements, taking applications, interviewing the applicants, presenting the list of scholarships to the board and writing the checks." explained Judge Lyons.

In 2004 the Fiscal Court members allotted $40,000 for scholarships to be distributed out to students of the graduating class, which is divided up into two semesters. The motion was made by Steve Hamilton, seconded by Jeff Randolph, with all were in favor of it except Daryl Stacy, who abstained his vote.

"I spoke to a trust attorney in regards to the legalities of the will, and with the will being established in 1937 and with the laws of the state of Kentucky some things have changed and with sending the will to probate court it will give the provisions of what the Fiscal court can and cannot do," Judge Lyons stated.

This court feels that we need to do whatever it takes to get this matter resolved and in the minutes to make it legal.

The Mercury will continue to follow the ruling of the probate court and bring it to you as soon as it is available.

Board member due to I cannot be a Fire Board member and a Fire Chief at the same time. I will turn in a letter of resignation effective immediately as a Fire Board member if need be," stated French.

Court members determined that there would be four appointments to the board with the resignation of Doug French.

The remaining firefighters are Cade Gilland, Cameron Crawford, Bobby Price, and Ricky Hughes.

County Attorney Letcher asked if there was anyone that wanted to pull their resignations before the court moved forward with their appointments.

The first appointments were firefighters' appointments from the remaining firefighters.

Johnnie Parton was nominated and was appointed with a unanimous vote from court members.

The second appointment from the firefighters remains open until the next meeting on May 1.

The court voted unanimously to appoint Jay Morford and Steve Wiedle on the Fire Board.

The court stated that the board will need to meet fairly quickly to elect officers, decide whether to accept the resignations of the firefighters, and determine if the decisions that were made at the board's last meeting needed to be rescinded or amended.

The appointments of the members to the Fire Board will only fill out the remainder of the terms.

Judge Lyons will swear in the new members on Friday evening.

The Fiscal court met on May 1 and appointed Tracy Brown to the Fire Board. The Mercury will continue to follow this story.

Judge's Message

I attended a meeting last week at the livestock building. Mr. Mike Phillips was the keynote speaker and the information he shared was something I would like to share with you with his permission.

Nicholas Counties largest industry is farming. I was amazed at how the income from farming had changed over the last few years. In 1986 tobacco production was 6.2 million, last years crop was just over 2 million. In 1986 we had 786 farms, the 2002 census said we had 582 farms.

Statewide income from tobacco in 1997 was 900 million dollars. Last year was just about 300 million dollars. Tobacco used to be king of ag. income. Today it falls behind cattle which passed tobacco in 2004. Last year tobacco ranked 6th in farm revenue behind poultry, horses, corn, soybeans and cattle.

Nicholas County though smaller than many counties in the state represents 16,600 acres in cultivation base, 22,700 acres in hay and meadow base, 75,500 acres in permanent pasture and 13,200 acres of non-cropland. Agriculture remains the # 1 cash revenue source in Nicholas County.

At a meeting last month with the Bluegrass Add District Mr. Lenny Stoltz had brought up the subject of setting a plan to help the farmers diversify. He was talking about helping set up ways to market their crops. In his statement he said farming was a big part of our income and the ADD needed to help the farmers more.

I told them that farming was our biggest industry and that I am willing to help any way that I can. After hearing these numbers I just wanted to get them out to everyone and let them know that I support our farmers and all of the employers in Nicholas County.

Fiscal Court discusses civility, drug task force at previous regular meeting

By Cecil Lawson
News Editor
cecil@kynewsgroup.com

Last week, the Carlisle Mercury reported on the Nicholas County Fiscal Court's handling of the Mathers Fund during their regular semi-monthly meeting held on Friday, May 20.

Judge Lyons noted at the beginning of the meeting that he had received several complaints about how the previous regular meeting had been conducted, because a number of people didn't get to express their opinions and people couldn't hear what was being said because of noise. He said that it was his responsibility to make sure that meetings were conducted properly, so he came up with a list of rules, which he shared with the magistrates.

Magistrate Hamilton raised the issue of how this might relate to Kentucky Statute. Attorney Letcher said that the state statute on disrupting public meetings applied to people who broke actually broke the law and did not apply to heated discussions.

Lyons said that he wanted to make sure that people at meetings were able to say what they needed to say with-

Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening

In a recent edition, the News-Graphic printed an editorial regarding the need for breast, cervical and colon cancer screening in our State. As part of the Wedco District Health Department, the Scott County Health Center provides these services for low income women through the Kentucky Women's Cancer Screening Program.

Since 1990, The Kentucky Women's Cancer Screening Program (KWCSPP) of the Kentucky Department for Public Health has provided breast and cervical screening and follow-up diagnostic services through local health departments and contracts with local health providers.

Beginning in October of 2002, women who are eligible for and screened or diagnosed through the KWCSPP and found to need treatment for breast or cervical cancer, or precancer of the breast or cervix, may be eligible for coverage of treatment through the Breast and Cervical Cancer Treatment Program (BCCTP), administered through local health departments and the Kentucky Department for Medicaid Services. Women must be screened or diagnosed through the Kentucky Women's Cancer Screening Program to be eligible for this program.

The KWCSPP funds breast and cervical screening for low income women at a low or reduced rate. Some women may qualify for services at no cost. A woman may be eligible for the KWCSPP if she is 21 or older and less than 65 years of age; has a household income less than 250% of the Federal poverty guideline; and has no health insurance (no Medicare, no Medicaid, and no private health insurance).

If determined to be KWCSPP eligible, screening services include:

- Age 21-39* Pap test/pelvic exam, clinical breast exam and most cervical/breast diagnostic procedures if indicated
- Age 40-64 Pap test/pelvic exam, clinical breast exam, mammogram, most cervical/breast diagnostic procedures if indicated
- Age 65 and older Eligible for Pap test/pelvic exam, clinical breast exam, mammogram, most cervical/breast diagnostic procedures if indicated through Medicare/Medicaid. Not KWCSPP eligible.

*Mammography or breast ultrasound is available for women under 40 as indicated by family or medical history to be determined by the local health department provider.

A cancer screening visit includes:

- a comprehensive health history
- a physical examination (including clinical breast exam and pelvic exam)
- laboratory tests (including a Pap test, fecal occult blood tests for ages 50+ and other tests as indicated by history/exam)
- referral for annual mammogram for ages 40+
- risk reduction counseling.

One-on-one Nurse case management is also made available for follow-up in the event of abnormal results. Patients are strongly encouraged to receive all services; however, the patient retains the right to refuse any part of the exam.

A woman can be screened at any Kentucky health department or by a contract provider in any Kentucky county. The local health department may also accept referrals from outside providers for screening services. If an income eligible woman has had a recent physical examination that included a clinical breast exam, pelvic exam and/or Pap test (within 6 months) from another provider, she must meet the following requirements of the KWCSPP: she must meet eligibility requirements and provide consent for services; she must bring (or have sent to the health department) medical record documentation of the exam; a copy of the Pap test results and other pertinent lab results (if these are not available, the health department will these services).

Women who have been screened by a local health department or contract provider and found to need treatment for breast or cervical cancer, or precancer of the breast or cervix, may be eligible for treatment funded through Kentucky Medicaid Services. Women must be screened or diagnosed through the Kentucky Women's Cancer Screening Program to be eligible for this program.

A woman may be eligible for the Breast and Cervical Cancer Treatment Program (BCCTP) if she:

- has been screened or diagnosed with cancer or precancerous condition by the KWCSPP through a local health department or contract provider
- has been found to be in need of treatment for either breast or cervical cancer, including a precancerous condition or early stage cancer
- is 21 or older and less than 65 years of age
- has a household income less than 250% of the federal poverty guideline
- does not otherwise have credible health insurance coverage
- is a United States citizen or qualified alien
- is a resident of Kentucky
- is not eligible for medical assistance or public insurance in any other eligible group
- is not a resident of a public institution (e.g. prison)

Eligibility will be determined by the health department.

Initial eligibility periods (length of Medicaid eligibility) are:

- Breast Cancer - four (4) months

- Cervical Cancer - three (3) months
- Precancerous Cervical - two (2) months
- Breast Disorder - two (2) months

Some patients may require longer than the initial period of treatment. The Department of Medicaid Services may grant an extension of Medicaid eligibility.

A woman who is eligible under this program receives the full range of Medicaid Services in addition to her cancer treatment. Services include: visits to primary care physicians, primary care centers, rural health clinics, dentists, hospital emergency rooms, independent laboratory services, inpatient hospitalization, vision services, screening services and health department services.

A woman with health insurance may be eligible for the BCCTP if the treatment of breast and cervical cancer is not a covered service with her insurance provider; is not covered due to exclusion as a pre-existing condition; is not covered due to an HMO affiliation period; or is not covered due to exhaustion of a lifetime limit on benefits.

Adult Education

Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education recently announced that the Robertson County Adult Education Program was one of only twenty-nine in the state that achieved the Excellence rating during the past fiscal year. Programs in the Excellence category met or exceeded enrollment, GED diploma attainment, and academic performance goals in order to received program performance and student performing funding.

In order to qualify, a county must achieve ninety percent or greater of the county's enrollment goal and one hundred percent of their GED diploma goal. Fifty-four percent or greater of those enrolled must have achieved education level completions (academic performance). Adult education programs are evaluated in two key areas; enrollment and academic performance. The Kentucky Adult Education Performance and Accountability model consists of three categories; Excellence, Proficient and Needs Improvement.

Kentucky Adult Education's core business is to raise the educational levels of eligible adults by providing academic instruction that leads to strong literacy skills and GED diploma attainment, which are the gateways to postsecondary education and skilled employment.

The Federal Workforce Investment Act requires a comprehensive performance accountability system to measure the success of adult education programs. Kentucky Adult Education uses the National Reporting System core performance measures for this purpose. For a program to achieve the Excellence rating, thirteen academic performance measures and eight student performance measures must be met.

The Robertson County Adult Education program is to be commended for being one of twenty-nine counties across the state to achieve this high honor. For more information, or to learn about the available services through the Robertson County Adult Education Program call 606-724-2216

The five-lined skink is a Kentucky reptile that enjoys living close to humans. The skink is not harmful to humans and helps to keep unwanted insects and small pests away.

By Charles Mattox

A fairly common though rarely seen lizard is the Five-lined Skink, or the species Plestiodon fasciatus, as it is called in the scientific community.

Skinks are small lizards that live across Kentucky and several other states. The can grow up to one foot in length.

Juveniles have five longitudinal stripes, usually yellowish or white stripes against a black background, which includes a blue tail.

Skinks are most active in the spring, during their mating season.

The reptiles prefer shady cover though they do expose themselves during the day.

Skinks eat mostly insects, including grasshoppers, crickets and roaches; they also eat spiders and have been known to feast on newborn mice.

Female Skinks lay between 4-14 eggs following the spring mating season, with the Skink nest usually located beneath a rock or in a rotten log or beneath a fallen tree.

The eggs hatch in one month. Skinks are not poisonous and seem to enjoy living close to humans.

Kentucky five-lined skinks have many enemies and predators, among which are, hawks, carnivorous mammals-such as the fox-mink-housecat, dog, weasel and the more territorial of the skink family; the Broadhead Skink.

Although the Skink appearance can cause distress, the Skink is no threat to humans and can help keep small pests and insects away from homes.

The Soul & Food For The Body". Speaking to the group from the Robertson County Health Department was Allison Adams from Maysville who spoke on various health issues and Patti Insko from Mt. Deming Freshmen See Grease Play

Eighteen freshmen from Patti Price's English 9 class attended the production of Grease at Maysville Community College Auditorium last Thursday. Grease- A School Version was performed by students from St. Patrick School. Grease is a 50's Rock n Roll musical that tells the story of Rydell High's Senior Class of 1959 featuring the characters of Danny Zuko and Sandy Dumbrowski who relive their high school romance. These characters and the rest of their high school gang sing and dance their way through such songs as "Greased Lightning", "It's Raining on Prom Night", and Alone at the Drive-In Movie" recalling the music of Buddy Holly, Little Richard and Elvis Presley. Grease had an eight-year run on Broadway and two subsequent revivals and has become among the world's most popular musicals.

This trip was not the Deming freshmen's first viewing of a musical play. They attended the Broadway production of West Side Story in Cincinnati in early March.

Deming Nutrition students have been working to raise awareness of the importance of healthy eating and increased daily physical activity! By teaming up with the National Dairy Council and the National Football League as well as the USDA, the Deming students have sponsored a variety of student and staff activities over the past six weeks.

Fuel Up to Play 60 provides funding and educational resources to encourage youth to eat nutrient-rich foods and to achieve at least 60 minutes of physical activity daily. The Deming Nutrition class presented a month long series of classroom lessons in healthy eating and activity to 4-6th graders and featured corresponding bulletin boards in the school cafeteria area. They also coordinated with the Deming Lunch Room staff to provide lunch time taste testing with kiwi, grapes, apples and cucumbers, as well as a build-your-own yogurt parfait bar.

FUTP60 Membership cards, wristbands, pencils, t-shirts, and footballs were used to raise student awareness and a Milk Mustache photo board also helped to encourage more students and staff to reconsider healthy choices!

Deming Staff and Teachers also teamed up with the Nutrition students by declaring March as Deming School Nutrition Month. Staff activities included an early morning walking club, staff blood screening, and a staff basketball game versus a group from the National Guard.

Students Jenna White and Chasity Tuel check out the Milk Mustache bulletin board which was sponsored by Deming's Nutrition class
